

THE BOOK OF RŪTH

CHAPTER 1

NOW it came to pass in the days when the judges ruled, that there was a famine in the land. And a certain man of Běth-lě-hěm-jû-dăh went to sojourn in the country of Mō-ăb, he, and his wife, and his two sons.

2 And the name of the man was Ē-līm-ě-lěch, and the name of his wife Nā-ō-mī, and the name of his two sons Măh-lôn and Chī-lī-ôn, Ĕph-ră-thītes of Běth-lě-hěm-jû-dăh. And they came into the country of Mō-ăb, and continued there.

3 And Ē-līm-ě-lěch Nā-ō-mī's husband died; and she was left, and her two sons.

4 And they took them wives of the women of Mō-ăb; the name of the one was Ōr-păh, and the name of the other Rŭth: and they dwelled there about ten years.

5 And Măh-lôn and Chī-lī-ôn died also both of them; and the woman was left of her two sons and her husband.

6 ¶ Then she arose with her daughters in law, that she might return from the country of Mō-ăb: for she had heard in the country of Mō-ăb how that the LORD had visited his people in giving them bread.

7 Wherefore she went forth out of the place where she was, and her two daughters in law with her; and they went on the way to return unto the land of Jûd-ăh.

8 And Nā-ō-mī said unto her two daughters in law, Go, return each to her mother's house: the LORD deal kindly with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me.

9 The LORD grant you that ye may find rest, each of you in the house of her husband. Then she kissed them; and they lifted up their voice, and wept.

10 And they said unto her, Surely we will return with thee unto thy people.

11 And Nā-ō-mī said, Turn again, my daughters: why will ye go with me? are there yet any more sons in my womb, that they may be your husbands?

12 Turn again, my daughters, go your way; for I am too old to have an husband. If I should say, I have hope, if I should have an husband also to night, and should also bear sons;

13 Would ye tarry for them till they were grown? would ye stay for them from having husbands? nay, my daughters; for it grieveth me much for your sakes that the hand of the LORD is gone out against me.

14 And they lifted up their voice, and wept again: and Ōr-păh kissed her mother in law; but Rŭth clave unto her.

15 And she said, Behold, thy sister in law is gone back unto her people, and unto her gods: return thou after thy sister in law.

16 And Rŭth said, Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God:

17 Where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried: the LORD do so to me, and more also, if ought but death part thee and me.

18 When she saw that she was stedfastly minded to go with her, then she left speaking unto her.

19 ¶ So they two went until they came to Běth-lě-hěm. And it came to pass, when they were come to Běth-lě-hěm, that all the city was moved about them, and they said, Is this Nā-ō-mī?

20 And she said unto them, Call me not Nā-ō-mī, call me Măr-ă:

for the Almighty hath dealt very bitterly with me.

21 I went out full, and the LORD hath brought me home again empty: why then call ye me Nā-ō-mī, seeing the LORD hath testified against me, and the Almighty hath afflicted me?

22 So Nā-ō-mī returned, and Rŭth the Mō-ăb-ī-těss, her daughter in law, with her, which returned out of the country of Mō-ăb: and they came to Běth-lě-hěm in the beginning of barley harvest.

CHAPTER 2

AND Nā-ō-mī had a kinsman of her husband's, a mighty man of wealth, of the family of Ē-līm-ě-lěch; and his name was Bō-ăz.

2 And Rŭth the Mō-ăb-ī-těss said unto Nā-ō-mī, Let me now go to the field, and glean ears of corn after him in whose sight I shall find grace. And she said unto her, Go, my daughter.

3 And she went, and came, and gleaned in the field after the reapers: and her hap was to light on a part of the field belonging unto Bō-ăz, who was of the kindred of Ē-līm-ě-lěch.

4 ¶ And, behold, Bō-ăz came from Běth-lě-hěm, and said unto the reapers, The LORD be with you. And they answered him, The LORD bless thee.

5 Then said Bō-ăz unto his servant that was set over the reapers, Whose damsel is this?

6 And the servant that was set over the reapers answered and said, It is the Mō-ăb-ī-tīsh damsel that came back with Nā-ō-mī out of the country of Mō-ăb:

7 And she said, I pray you, let me glean and gather after the reapers among the sheaves: so she came, and hath continued even from the morning until now, that she tarried a little in the house.

8 Then said Bō-ăz unto Rŭth, Hearest thou not, my daughter? Go not to glean in another field, neither go from hence, but abide here fast by my maidens:

9 Let thine eyes be on the field that they do reap, and go thou after them: have I not charged the young men that they shall not touch thee? and when thou art athirst, go unto the vessels, and drink of that which the young men have drawn.

10 Then she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, and said unto him, Why have I found grace in thine eyes, that thou shouldest take knowledge of me, seeing I am a stranger?

11 And Bō-ăz answered and said unto her, It hath fully been shewed me, all that thou hast done unto thy mother in law since the death of thine husband: and how thou hast left thy father and thy mother, and the land of thy nativity, and art come unto a people which thou knewest not heretofore.

12 The LORD recompense thy work, and a full reward be given thee of the LORD God of Īś-ră-ěl, under whose wings thou art come to trust.

13 Then she said, Let me find favour in thy sight, my lord; for that thou hast comforted me, and for that thou hast spoken friendly unto thine handmaid, though I be not like unto one of thine handmaidens.

14 And Bō-ăz said unto her, At mealtime come thou hither, and eat of the bread, and dip thy morsel in the vinegar. And she sat beside the reapers: and he reached her parched corn, and she did eat, and was sufficed, and left.

15 And when she was risen up to glean, Bō-ăz commanded his young men, saying, Let her glean even among the sheaves, and reproach her not:

16 And let fall also some of the handfuls of purpose for her, and leave them, that she may glean them, and rebuke her not.

17 So she gleaned in the field until even, and beat out that she had gleaned: and it was about an ē-phäh of barley.

18 ¶ And she took it up, and went into the city: and her mother in law saw what she had gleaned: and she brought forth, and gave to her that she had reserved after she was sufficed.

19 And her mother in law said unto her, Where hast thou gleaned to day? and where wroughtest thou? blessed be he that did take knowledge of thee. And she shewed her mother in law with whom she had wrought, and said, The man's name with whom I wrought to day is Bō-áz.

20 And Nā-ō-mī said unto her daughter in law, Blessed be he of the LORD, who hath not left off his kindness to the living and to the dead. And Nā-ō-mī said unto her, The man is near of kin unto us, one of our next kinsmen.

21 And Rûth the Mō-āb-ī-tëss said, He said unto me also, Thou shalt keep fast by my young men, until they have ended all my harvest.

22 And Nā-ō-mī said unto Rûth her daughter in law, It is good, my daughter, that thou go out with his maidens, that they meet thee not in any other field.

23 So she kept fast by the maidens of Bō-áz to glean unto the end of barley harvest and of wheat harvest; and dwelt with her mother in law.

CHAPTER 3

THEN Nā-ō-mī her mother in law said unto her, My daughter, shall I not seek rest for thee, that it may be well with thee?

2 And now is not Bō-áz of our kindred, with whose maidens thou wast? Behold, he winnoweth barley to night in the threshing-floor.

3 Wash thyself therefore, and anoint thee, and put thy raiment upon thee, and get thee down to the floor: but make not thyself known unto the man, until he shall have done eating and drinking.

4 And it shall be, when he lieth down, that thou shalt mark the place where he shall lie, and thou shalt go in, and uncover his feet, and lay thee down; and he will tell thee what thou shalt do.

5 And she said unto her, All that thou sayest unto me I will do.

6 ¶ And she went down unto the floor, and did according to all that her mother in law bade her.

7 And when Bō-áz had eaten and drunk, and his heart was merry, he went to lie down at the end of the heap of corn: and she came softly, and uncovered his feet, and laid her down.

8 ¶ And it came to pass at midnight, that the man was afraid, and turned himself: and, behold, a woman lay at his feet.

9 And he said, Who art thou? And she answered, I am Rûth thine handmaid: spread therefore thy skirt over thine handmaid; for thou art a near kinsman.

10 And he said, Blessed be thou of the LORD, my daughter: for thou hast shewed more kindness in the latter end than at the beginning, inasmuch as thou followedst not young men, whether poor or rich.

11 And now, my daughter, fear not; I will do to thee all that thou requirest: for all the city of my people doth know that thou art a virtuous woman.

12 And now it is true that I am thy near kinsman: howbeit there is a kinsman nearer than I.

13 Tarry this night, and it shall be in the morning, that if he will perform unto thee the part of a kinsman, well; let him do the kinsman's part: but if he will not do the part of a kinsman to thee, then will I do the part of a kinsman to thee, as the LORD liveth: lie down until the morning.

14 ¶ And she lay at his feet until the morning: and she rose up before one could know another. And he said, Let it not be known that a woman came into the floor.

15 Also he said, Bring the veil that thou hast upon thee, and hold it. And when she held it, he measured six measures of barley, and laid it on her: and she went into the city.

16 And when she came to her mother in law, she said, Who art thou, my daughter? And she told her all that the man had done to her.

17 And she said, These six measures of barley gave he me; for he said to me, Go not empty unto thy mother in law.

CHAPTER 4

THEN went Bō-áz up to the gate, and sat him down there: and, behold, the kinsman of whom Bō-áz spake came by; unto whom he said, Ho, such a one! turn aside, sit down here. And he turned aside, and sat down.

2 And he took ten men of the elders of the city, and said, Sit ye down here. And they sat down.

3 And he said unto the kinsman, Nā-ō-mī, that is come again out of the country of Mō-āb, selleth a parcel of land, which was our brother Ē-līm-ē-lëch's:

4 And I thought to advertise thee, saying, Buy it before the inhabitants, and before the elders of my people. If thou wilt redeem it, redeem it: but if thou wilt not redeem it, then tell me, that I may know: for there is none to redeem it beside thee; and I am after thee. And he said, I will redeem it.

5 Then said Bō-áz, What day thou buyest the field of the hand of Nā-ō-mī, thou must buy it also of Rûth the Mō-āb-ī-tëss, the wife of the dead, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance.

6 ¶ And the kinsman said, I cannot redeem it for myself, lest I mar mine own inheritance: redeem thou my right to thyself; for I cannot redeem it.

7 Now this was the manner in former time in Īś-rā-ël concerning redeeming and concerning changing, for to confirm all things; a man plucked off his shoe, and gave it to his neighbour: and this was a testimony in Īś-rā-ël.

8 Therefore the kinsman said unto Bō-áz, Buy it for thee. So he drew off his shoe.

9 ¶ And Bō-áz said unto the elders, and unto all the people, Ye are witnesses this day, that I have bought all that was Ē-līm-ē-lëch's, and all that was Chī-lī-ōn's and Mäh-lōn's, of the hand of Nā-ō-mī.

10 Moreover Rûth the Mō-āb-ī-tëss, the wife of Mäh-lōn, have I purchased to be my wife, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance, that the name of the dead be not cut off from among his brethren, and from the gate of his place: ye are witnesses this day.

11 And all the people that were in the gate, and the elders, said, We are witnesses. The LORD make the woman that is come into thine house like Rā-chël and like Lē-āh, which two did build the house of Īś-rā-ël: and do thou worthily in Ēph-rā-tāh, and be famous in Běth-lě-hěm:

12 And let thy house be like the house of Phâr-ěz, whom Tā-mär bare unto Jûd-ăh, of the seed which the LORD shall give thee of this young woman.

13 ¶ So Bō-ăz took Rûth, and she was his wife: and when he went in unto her, the LORD gave her conception, and she bare a son.

14 And the women said unto Nā-ō-mī, Blessed be the LORD, which hath not left thee this day without a kinsman, that his name may be famous in Ís-rā-ěl.

15 And he shall be unto thee a restorer of thy life, and a nourisher of thine old age: for thy daughter in law, which loveth thee, which is better to thee than seven sons, hath born him.

16 And Nā-ō-mī took the child, and laid it in her bosom, and became nurse unto it.

17 And the women her neighbours gave it a name, saying, There is a son born to Nā-ō-mī; and they called his name Ō-běd: he is the father of Jěs-sě, the father of Dā-víd.

18 ¶ Now these are the generations of Phâr-ěz: Phâr-ěz begat Hěz-rön,

19 And Hěz-rön begat Răm, and Răm begat Ām-mĭn-ă-dăb,

20 And Ām-mĭn-ă-dăb begat Năh-shön, and Năh-shön begat Săl-mön,

21 And Săl-mön begat Bō-ăz, and Bō-ăz begat Ō-běd,

22 And Ō-běd begat Jěs-sě, and Jěs-sě begat Dā-víd.
