THE SECOND BOOK OF SĂM-Ū-ĔL, OTHERWISE CALLED, THE SECOND BOOK OF THE KINGS

CHAPTER 1

Now it came to pass after the death of Saul, when Dā-vid was returned from the slaughter of the Ă-măl-ĕk-ītes, and Dā-vid had abode two days in Zĭk-lăg; 2 It came even to pass on the third day, that, behold, a man came out of the camp from Saul with his clothes rent, and earth upon his head: and so it was, when he came to Dā-vid, that he fell to the earth, and did obeisance.

3 And Dā'vĭd said unto him, From whence comest thou? And he said unto him, Out of the camp of Ĭs'rā-ĕl am I escaped.

4 And Dā-vid said unto him, How went the matter? I pray thee, tell me. And he answered, That the people are fled from the battle, and many of the people also are fallen and dead; and Saul and Jŏn-a-than his son are dead also.

5 And Dā-vid said unto the young man that told him, How knowest thou that Saul and Jŏn-a-than his son be dead? 6 And the young man that told him said, As I happened by chance upon mount Gil-bō-a, behold, Saul leaned upon his spear; and, lo, the chariots and horsemen followed hard after him.

7 And when he looked behind him, he saw me, and called unto me. And I answered, Here am I.

8 And he said unto me, Who art thou? And I answered him, I am an Ă-măl-ĕk-īte.

9 He said unto me again, Stand, I pray thee, upon me, and slay me: for anguish is come upon me, because my life is yet whole in me.

10 So I stood upon him, and slew him, because I was sure that he could not live after that he was fallen: and I took the crown that was upon his head, and the bracelet that was on his arm, and have brought them hither unto my lord.

11 Then Dā'vĭd took hold on his clothes, and rent them; and likewise all the men that were with him:

12 And they mourned, and wept, and fasted until even, for Saul, and for Jŏn-ã-thăn his son, and for the people of the LORD, and for the house of Ĭś-rā-ĕl; because they were fallen by the sword.

13 \P And Dā-vǐd said unto the young man that told him, Whence art thou? And he answered, I am the son of a stranger, an \check{A} -m \check{a} l- $\check{e}k$ - $\check{t}e$.

14 And Dā-vǐd said unto him, How wast thou not afraid to stretch forth thine hand to destroy the LORD's anointed? 15 And Dā-vǐd called one of the young men, and said, Go near, and fall upon him. And he smote him that he died.

16 And Dā-vĭd said unto him, Thy blood be upon thy head; for thy mouth hath testified against thee, saying, I have slain the LORD's anointed.

17 \P And Dā-vǐd lamented with this lamentation over Saul and over Jŏn-a-thăn his son:

18 (Also he bade them teach the children of Jûd-ăh the use of the bow: behold, it is written in the book of Jăsh-ĕr.)

19 The beauty of Ĭś-rā-ĕl is slain upon thy high places: how are the mighty fallen!

20 Tell it not in Găth, publish it not in the streets of Ăs-kĕ-lon; lest the daughters of the Phĭl-ĭs-tīnes rejoice, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised triumph.

21 Ye mountains of Gĭl-bō-á, let there be no dew, neither let there be rain, upon you, nor fields of offerings: for there the shield of the mighty is vilely cast away, the shield of Saul, as though he had not been anointed with oil.

22 From the blood of the slain, from the fat of the mighty, the bow of Jŏn-a-than turned not back, and the sword of Saul returned not empty.

23 Saul and Jŏn-a-than were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided: they were swifter than eagles, they were stronger than lions.

24 Ye daughters of Ĭś-rā-ĕl, weep over Saul, who clothed you in scarlet, with other delights, who put on ornaments of gold upon your apparel.

25 How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle! O Jŏn-ă-thăn, thou wast slain in thine high places.

26 I am distressed for thee, my brother Jŏn-a-than: very pleasant hast thou been unto me: thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women.

27 How are the mighty fallen, and the weapons of war perished!

CHAPTER 2

And it came to pass after this, that Dā-vid inquired of the LORD, saying, Shall I go up into any of the cities of Jûd-ah? And the LORD said unto him, Go up. And Dā-vid said, Whither shall I go up? And he said, Unto Hē-bron.

2 So Dā-vĭd went up thither, and his two wives also, Ă-hĭn-ō-ăm the Jĕz-reel-ī-tĕss, and Ăb-ĭ-gail Nā-băl's wife the Cär-mĕl-īte.

3 And his men that were with him did Dā'vĭd bring up, every man with his household: and they dwelt in the cities of Hē'brŏn.

4 And the men of Jûd'āh came, and there they anointed Dā'vĭd king over the house of Jûd'āh. And they told Dā'vĭd, saying, That the men of Jā'bĕsh-gĭl'ĕ-ăd were they that buried Saul.

5 ¶ And Dā-vid sent messengers unto the men of Jā-besh-gĭl-e-ăd, and said unto them, Blessed be ye of the LORD, that ye have shewed this kindness unto your lord, even unto Saul, and have buried him.

6 And now the LORD shew kindness and truth unto you: and I also will requite you this kindness, because ye have done this thing.

7 Therefore now let your hands be strengthened, and be ye valiant: for your master Saul is dead, and also the house of Jûd-ăh have anointed me king over them.

8 ¶ But Åb-nĕr the son of Nĕr, captain of Saul's host, took Ĭsh-bŏsh-ĕth the son of Saul, and brought him over to Mā-hă-nā-ĩm;

9 And made him king over Gĭl-ĕ-ăd, and over the Äsh'ū-rītes, and over Jĕz'reel, and over Ē'phră-ĭm, and over Bĕn'jā-mĭn, and over all Ĭś'rā-ĕl.

10 Ĭsh-bŏsh-ĕth Saul's son was forty years old when he began to reign over Ĭś-rā-ĕl, and reigned two years. But the house of Jûd-ăh followed Dā-vĭd.

11 And the time that Dā-vĭd was king in Hē-brŏn over the house of Jûd-ăh was seven years and six months.

12 \P And Åb-ner the son of Ner, and the servants of Ishbosh-eth the son of Saul, went out from Ma-ha-na-im to Gib-e-on.

13 And Jō-ab the son of Zĕr-ū-ī-ah, and the servants of Dā-vid, went out, and met together by the pool of Gib-ĕ-on: and they sat down, the one on the one side of the pool, and the other on the other side of the pool.

14 And Ăb-nĕr said to Jō-aĕb, Let the young men now arise, and play before us. And Jō-aĕb said, Let them arise.

15 Then there arose and went over by number twelve of Běn'jă-mĭn, which pertained to Ĭsh-bŏsh'ĕth the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of Dā'vĭd.

16 And they caught every one his fellow by the head, and thrust his sword in his fellow's side; so they fell down together: wherefore that place was called Hěl'kăthhăz-zū-rĭm, which is in Gĭb-ĕ-on.

17 And there was a very sore battle that day; and Åb-nĕr was beaten, and the men of Ĭs-rā-ĕl, before the servants of Dā-vĭd.

18 ¶ And there were three sons of Zĕr-ū-ī-ăh there, Jō-ăb, and Ăb-ĭ-shai, and Ăs-ă-hĕl: and Ăs-ă-hĕl was as light of foot as a wild roe.

19 And Ăs-ă-hel pursued after Ăb-ner; and in going he turned not to the right hand nor to the left from following Ăb-ner.

20 Then Åb-'nĕr looked behind him, and said, Art thou Ås-'ā-hĕl? And he answered, I am.

21 And Ăb-ner said to him, Turn thee aside to thy right hand or to thy left, and lay thee hold on one of the young men, and take thee his armour. But Ăs-ã-hel would not turn aside from following of him.

22 And Ăb-ner said again to Ăs-ă-hel, Turn thee aside from following me: wherefore should I smite thee to the ground? how then should I hold up my face to Jō-ăb thy brother?

23 Howbeit he refused to turn aside: wherefore Åb-nĕr with the hinder end of the spear smote him under the fifth rib, that the spear came out behind him; and he fell down there, and died in the same place: and it came to pass, that as many as came to the place where Ăs-ã-hĕl fell down and died stood still.

24 Jō-ab also and Ab-i-shai pursued after Ab-ner: and the sun went down when they were come to the hill of Am-mah, that lieth before Gī-ah by the way of the wilderness of Gib-e-on.

25 \P And the children of Běn-jã-mĭn gathered themselves together after Åb-nĕr, and became one troop, and stood on the top of an hill.

26 Then Ăb-nĕr called to Jō-ab, and said, Shall the sword devour for ever? knowest thou not that it will be bitterness in the latter end? how long shall it be then, ere thou bid the people return from following their brethren?

27 And Jō-ab said, As God liveth, unless thou hadst spoken, surely then in the morning the people had gone up every one from following his brother.

28 So Jō-ab blew a trumpet, and all the people stood still, and pursued after Iś-rā-el no more, neither fought they any more.

29 And Åb-ner and his men walked all that night through the plain, and passed over Jôr-dăn, and went through all Bǐth-ron, and they came to Mā-ha-nā-im.

30 And Jō-ab returned from following Ab-ner: and when he had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Dā-vid's servants nineteen men and As-a-hel.

31 But the servants of Dā-vǐd had smitten of Bĕn-jă-mĭn, and of Ăb-nĕr's men, so that three hundred and threescore men died.

32 ¶ And they took up Ăs-ʿā-hel, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-ʻle-hem. And Jō-ʿāb and his men went all night, and they came to Hē-ʿbroň at break of day.

CHAPTER 3

Now there was long war between the house of Saul and the house of Dā-vǐd: but Dā-vǐd waxed stronger and stronger, and the house of Saul waxed weaker and weaker. 2 ¶ And unto Dā-vǐd were sons born in Hē-brŏn: and his firstborn was Ăm-nŏn, of Ă-hĭn-ō-ăm the Jĕz-reel-ī-tĕss;

3 And his second, Chī-le-ab, of Ăb-ĩ-gail the wife of Nā-bal the Car-mel-īte; and the third, Ăb-să-lom the son of Mā-a-cah the daughter of Tăl-mai king of Gē-shur;

4 And the fourth, Ăd-ō-nī-jāh the son of Hăg-gĭth; and the fifth, Shĕph-ă-tī-āh the son of Ă-bī-tăl;

5 And the sixth, Ĭth-rĕ-ăm, by Ĕg-lăh Dā-vĭd's wife. These were born to Dā-vĭd in Hē-brŏn.

6 ¶ And it came to pass, while there was war between the house of \widehat{Saul} and the house of $\widehat{Da'}$ vĭd, that $\widecheck{Ab'}$ nĕr made himself strong for the house of \widehat{Saul} .

7 And Saul had a concubine, whose name was Rǐz-păh, the daughter of Ai-ăh: and Išh-bŏsh-ĕth said to Ăb-nĕr, Wherefore hast thou gone in unto my father's concubine? 8 Then was Ăb-nĕr very wroth for the words of Išh-bŏsh-ĕth, and said, Am I a dog's head, which against Jûd-ãh do shew kindness this day unto the house of Saul thy father, to his brethren, and to his friends, and have not delivered thee into the hand of Dā-vĭd, that thou chargest me to day with a fault concerning this woman?

9 So do God to Ăb-nĕr, and more also, except, as the LORD hath sworn to Dā-vĭd, even so I do to him;

10 To translate the kingdom from the house of Saul, and to set up the throne of Dā-vid over Ĭs-rā-ĕl and over Jûd-ăh, from Dăn even to Beer-shē-bă.

11 And he could not answer Åb-ner a word again, because he feared him.

12 ¶ And Ăb-nĕr sent messengers to Dā-vĭd on his behalf, saying, Whose is the land? saying also, Make thy league with me, and, behold, my hand shall be with thee, to bring about all Ĭś-rā-ĕl unto thee.

13 ¶ And he said, Well; I will make a league with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, Thou shalt not see my face, except thou first bring Mī-chăl Saul's daughter, when thou comest to see my face.

14 And Dā-vid sent messengers to Ĭsh-bŏsh-ĕth Saul's son, saying, Deliver me my wife Mī-chăl, which I espoused to me for an hundred foreskins of the Phil-is-tīnes.

15 And Ĭsh-bŏsh-ĕth sent, and took her from her husband, even from Phăl-tĭ-ĕl the son of Lā-ĭsh.

16 And her husband went with her along weeping behind her to Bă-hū-rim. Then said Ăb-nĕr unto him, Go, return. And he returned.

17 \P And Åb-nĕr had communication with the elders of Ĭs-rā-ĕl, saying, Ye sought for Dā-vĭd in times past to be king over you:

18 Now then do it: for the LORD hath spoken of Dā'vĭd, saying, By the hand of my servant Dā'vĭd I will save my people Ĭś'rā-ĕl out of the hand of the Phĭl'ĭs-tīneś, and out of the hand of all their enemies.

19 And Ăb-ner also spake in the ears of Ben-jā-min: and Ăb-ner went also to speak in the ears of Dā-vid in Hē-bron all that seemed good to Ĭś-rā-el, and that seemed good to the whole house of Ben-jā-min.

20 So Åb-nĕr came to Dā-vĭd to Hē-brŏn, and twenty men with him. And Dā-vĭd made Åb-nĕr and the men that were with him a feast.

21 And Åb-ner said unto Dā-vid, I will arise and go, and will gather all Ĭs-rā-el unto my lord the king, that they may make a league with thee, and that thou mayest reign over all that thine heart desireth. And Dā-vid sent Ăb-ner away; and he went in peace.

22 ¶ And, behold, the servants of Dā-vid and Jō-ab came from pursuing a troop, and brought in a great spoil with them: but Ab-ner was not with Dā-vid in Hē-bron; for he had sent him away, and he was gone in peace.

23 When Jōʻāb and all the host that was with him were come, they told Jōʻāb, saying, Ăbʻnĕr the son of Nĕr came to the king, and he hath sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Jō-áb came to the king, and said, What hast thou done? behold, Ăb-nĕr came unto thee; why is it that thou hast sent him away, and he is quite gone?

25 Thou knowest Åb-ner the son of Ner, that he came to deceive thee, and to know thy going out and thy coming in, and to know all that thou doest.

26 And when Jō-ab was come out from Dā-vid, he sent messengers after Ab-ner, which brought him again from the well of Sī-rah: but Dā-vid knew it not.

27 And when Åb'nĕr was returned to Hē'brŏn, Jō'āb took him aside in the gate to speak with him quietly, and smote him there under the fifth rib, that he died, for the blood of Ås'ā-hĕl his brother.

28 ¶ And afterward when Dā-vĭd heard it, he said, I and my kingdom are guiltless before the LORD for ever from the blood of Ăb-nĕr the son of Nĕr:

29 Let it rest on the head of Jō-ab, and on all his father's house; and let there not fail from the house of Jō-ab one that hath an issue, or that is a leper, or that leaneth on a staff, or that falleth on the sword, or that lacketh bread.

30 So Jō-ab and Ab-i-shai his brother slew Ab-ner, because he had slain their brother As-a-hel at Gib-e-on in the battle.

31 ¶ And Dā-vǐd said to Jō-ab, and to all the people that were with him, Rend your clothes, and gird you with sackcloth, and mourn before Ab-nĕr. And king Dā-vid himself followed the bier.

32 And they buried Åb-nĕr in Hē-brŏn: and the king lifted up his voice, and wept at the grave of Åb-nĕr; and all the people wept.

33 And the king lamented over Ăb-nĕr, and said, Died Ăb-nĕr as a fool dieth?

34 Thy hands were not bound, nor thy feet put into fetters: as a man falleth before wicked men, so fellest thou. And all the people wept again over him.

35 And when all the people came to cause Dā'vĭd to eat meat while it was yet day, Dā'vĭd sware, saying, So do God to me, and more also, if I taste bread, or ought else, till the sun be down.

36 And all the people took notice of it, and it pleased them: as whatsoever the king did pleased all the people.

37 For all the people and all Ĭś-rā-ĕl understood that day that it was not of the king to slay Ăb-nĕr the son of Nĕr.

38 And the king said unto his servants, Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in $\check{\text{Is}}$ - $\check{\text{ra}}$ - $\check{\text{el}}$? 39 And $\check{\text{I}}$ am this day weak, though anointed king; and these men the sons of $\check{\text{Zer}}$ - $\check{\text{u}}$ - $\check{\text{i}}$ - $\check{\text{i}}$ be too hard for me: the LORD shall reward the doer of evil according to his wickedness.

CHAPTER 4

And when Saul's son heard that Ăb-nĕr was dead in Hē-brŏn, his hands were feeble, and all the Ĭś-rā-ĕl-ītes were troubled.

2 And Saul's son had two men that were captains of bands: the name of the one was Bā-a-nah, and the name of the other Rē-chab, the sons of Rim-mon a Beer-ō-thīte, of the children of Ben-ja-min: (for Beer-ōth also was reckoned to Ben-ja-min:

3 And the Beer-o-thites fled to Git-ta-im, and were sojourners there until this day.)

4 And Jŏnʻa-than, Saul's son, had a son that was lame of his feet. He was five years old when the tidings came of Saul and Jŏnʻa-than out of Jĕzʻreel, and his nurse took him up, and fled: and it came to pass, as she made haste to flee, that he fell, and became lame. And his name was Mĕ-phĭbʻō-shĕth.

5 And the sons of Rĭm-mon the Beer-o-thīte, Rē-chāb and Bā-a-nāh, went, and came about the heat of the day to the house of Ĭsh-bŏsh-ĕth, who lay on a bed at noon.

6 And they came thither into the midst of the house, as though they would have fetched wheat; and they smote him under the fifth rib: and Rē-chāb and Bā-ā-nāh his brother escaped.

7 For when they came into the house, he lay on his bed in his bedchamber, and they smote him, and slew him, and beheaded him, and took his head, and gat them away through the plain all night.

8 And they brought the head of Ish-bosh-eth unto Dā-vid to Hē-bron, and said to the king, Behold the head of Ish-bosh-eth the son of Saul thine enemy, which sought thy life; and the LORD hath avenged my lord the king this day of Saul, and of his seed.

9 ¶ And Dā-vid answered Rē-chāb and Bā-a-nāh his brother, the sons of Rim-mon the Beer-ō-thīte, and said unto them, As the LORD liveth, who hath redeemed my soul out of all adversity.

10 When one told me, saying, Behold, Saul is dead, thinking to have brought good tidings, I took hold of him, and slew him in Zǐk-lăg, who thought that I would have given him a reward for his tidings:

11 How much more, when wicked men have slain a righteous person in his own house upon his bed? shall I not therefore now require his blood of your hand, and take you away from the earth?

12 And Dā-vid commanded his young men, and they slew them, and cut off their hands and their feet, and hanged them up over the pool in Hē-brŏn. But they took the head of Ĭsh-bŏsh-ĕth, and buried it in the sepulchre of Ăb-nĕr in Hē-brŏn.

CHAPTER 5

Then came all the tribes of $I\dot{s}-r\bar{a}-el$ to $D\bar{a}-v\bar{d}$ unto Hē-brŏn, and spake, saying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy flesh.

2 Also in time past, when Saul was king over us, thou wast he that leddest out and broughtest in Ĭś-rā-ĕl: and the LORD said to thee, Thou shalt feed my people Ĭś-rā-ĕl, and thou shalt be a captain over Ĭś-rā-ĕl.

3 So all the elders of Ĭś-rā-ĕl came to the king to Hē-brŏn; and king Dā-vĭd made a league with them in Hē-brŏn before the LORD: and they anointed Dā-vĭd king over Ĭś-rā-ĕl.

4 ¶ Dā-vĭd was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years.

5 In Hē-brŏn he reigned over Jûd-ăh seven years and six months: and in Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm he reigned thirty and three years over all Ĭś-rā-ĕl and Jûd-ăh.

 $6\P$ And the king and his men went to Jě-rû-să-lěm unto the Jěb-ū-sītes, the inhabitants of the land: which spake unto Dā-vǐd, saying, Except thou take away the blind and the lame, thou shalt not come in hither: thinking, Dā-vǐd cannot come in hither.

7 Nevertheless Dā-vĭd took the strong hold of Zī-on: the same is the city of Dā-vĭd.

8 And Dā-vid said on that day, Whosoever getteth up to the gutter, and smiteth the Jĕbʻū-śītes, and the lame and the blind, that are hated of Dāʻvĭd's soul, he shall be chief and captain. Wherefore they said, The blind and the lame shall not come into the house.

9 So Dā-vĭd dwelt in the fort, and called it the city of Dā-vĭd. And Dā-vĭd built round about from Mĭl-lō and inward.

10 And Dā-vĭd went on, and grew great, and the LORD God of hosts was with him.

11 ¶ And Hī-rām king of Tyre sent messengers to Dā-vid, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons: and they built Dā-vid an house.

12 And Dā-vǐd perceived that the LORD had established him king over Ĭś-rā-ĕl, and that he had exalted his kingdom for his people Ĭś-rā-ĕl's sake.

13 ¶ And Dā-vǐd took him more concubines and wives out of Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm, after he was come from Hē-brŏn: and there were yet sons and daughters born to Dā-vǐd.

14 And these be the names of those that were born unto him in Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm; Shăm-mū-ă, and Shō-băb, and Nā-thăn, and Sŏl-ŏ-mon, 15 Ĭb-här also, and Ē-lī-shû-ă, and Nĕph-ĕg, and Jă-phī-ă, 16 And Ē-lī-shă-mă, and Ē-lī-ā-dă, and Ē-līph-ă-lĕt.

17 \P But when the Phǐl-ĩs-tīnes heard that they had anointed Dā-vǐd king over Ĭs-rā-ĕl, all the Phǐl-ĩs-tīnes came up to seek Dā-vǐd; and Dā-vǐd heard of it, and went down to the hold.

18 The Phǐl-ris-tīnes also came and spread themselves in the valley of Rĕph-a-rim.

19 And Dā-vǐd inquired of the LORD, saying, Shall I go up to the Phĭl-ĭs-tīnes? wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the LORD said unto Dā-vǐd, Go up: for I will doubtless deliver the Phǐl-ĭs-tīnes into thine hand.

20 And Dā-vǐd came to Bā-ál-pĕ-rā-zīm, and Dā-vǐd smote them there, and said, The LORD hath broken forth upon mine enemies before me, as the breach of waters. Therefore he called the name of that place Bā-ál-pĕ-rā-zīm.

21 And there they left their images, and Dā-vĭd and his men burned them.

22 ¶ And the Phĭl-ĭs-tīnes came up yet again, and spread themselves in the valley of Rĕph-ʿā-ĭm.

23 And when Dā'vĭd inquired of the LORD, he said, Thou shalt not go up; but fetch a compass behind them, and come upon them over against the mulberry trees.

24 And let it be, when thou hearest the sound of a going in the tops of the mulberry trees, that then thou shalt bestir thyself: for then shall the LORD go out before thee, to smite the host of the Phǐl-ĩs-tīneś.

25 And Dā'vĭd did so, as the LORD had commanded him; and smote the Phĭl'īs-tīnes from Gē'bă until thou come to Gā'zĕr.

CHAPTER 6

A GAIN, Dā-vǐd gathered together all the chosen men of \check{A} is-rā-el, thirty thousand.

2 And Dā-vĭd arose, and went with all the people that were with him from $B\bar{a}'\bar{a}-l\bar{e}$ of $J\hat{u}d'\bar{a}h$, to bring up from thence the ark of God, whose name is called by the name of the LORD of hosts that dwelleth between the cher- \bar{u} -bims.

3 And they set the ark of God upon a new cart, and brought it out of the house of Ă-bĭn-ã-dăb that was in Gĭb-ē-ăh: and Ŭz-zăh and Ă-hī-ō, the sons of Ă-bĭn-ã-dăb, drave the new cart.

4 And they brought it out of the house of Ă-bĭn-ã-dăb which was at Gĭb-ĕ-ăh, accompanying the ark of God: and Ă-hī-ō went before the ark.

5 And Dā'vĭd and all the house of Ĭś'rā-ĕl played before the LORD on all manner of instruments made of fir wood, even on harps, and on psalteries, and on timbrels, and on cornets, and on cymbals.

 $6\P$ And when they came to Nā-chŏn's threshingfloor, Ŭz-zăh put forth his hand to the ark of God, and took hold of it; for the oxen shook it.

7 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Ŭz-zăh; and God smote him there for his error; and there he died by the ark of God.

8 And Dā-vid was displeased, because the LORD had made a breach upon Ŭz-zăh: and he called the name of the place Pē-rez-ŭz-zăh to this day.

9 And Dā'vĭd was afraid of the LORD that day, and said, How shall the ark of the LORD come to me?

10 So Dā'vĭd would not remove the ark of the LORD unto him into the city of Dā'vĭd: but Dā'vĭd carried it aside into the house of \bar{O} -bĕd- \bar{e} -dom the Gĭt-tīte.

11 And the ark of the LORD continued in the house of Ō'bĕd-ē'dom the Gĭt'tīte three months: and the LORD blessed Ō'bĕd-ē'dom, and all his household.

12 ¶ And it was told king Dā-́vĭd, saying, The LORD hath blessed the house of Ō-́bĕd-ē-́dom, and all that pertaineth unto him, because of the ark of God. So Dā-́vĭd went and brought up the ark of God from the house of Ō-́bĕd-ē-́dom into the city of Dā-́vĭd with gladness.

13 And it was so, that when they that bare the ark of the LORD had gone six paces, he sacrificed oxen and fatlings.

14 And Dā-vĭd danced before the LORD with all his might; and Dā-vĭd was girded with a linen ē-phŏd.

15 So Dā-vid and all the house of Ĭś-rā-ĕl brought up the ark of the LORD with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet.

16 And as the ark of the LORD came into the city of Dā´vĭd, Mī-ʿchăl Saul's daughter looked through a window, and saw king Dā-ʿvĭd leaping and dancing before the LORD; and she despised him in her heart.

17 \P And they brought in the ark of the LORD, and set it in his place, in the midst of the tabernacle that Dā-vǐd had pitched for it: and Dā-vǐd offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

18 And as soon as $D\bar{a}'$ vĭd had made an end of offering burnt offerings and peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD of hosts.

19 And he dealt among all the people, even among the whole multitude of Ĭś-rā-ĕl, as well to the women as men, to every one a cake of bread, and a good piece of flesh, and a flagon of wine. So all the people departed every one to his house.

20 ¶ Then Dā-vid returned to bless his household. And Mī-chăl the daughter of Saul came out to meet Dā-vid, and said, How glorious was the king of Ĭs-rā-ĕl to day, who uncovered himself to day in the eyes of the handmaids of his servants, as one of the vain fellows shamelessly uncovereth himself!

21 And Dā-vid said unto Mī-chăl, It was before the LORD, which chose me before thy father, and before all his house, to appoint me ruler over the people of the LORD, over Ĭś-rā-ĕl: therefore will I play before the LORD.

22 And I will yet be more vile than thus, and will be base in mine own sight: and of the maidservants which thou hast spoken of, of them shall I be had in honour.

23 Therefore Mī-chăl the daughter of Saul had no child unto the day of her death.

CHAPTER 7

And it came to pass, when the king sat in his house, and the LORD had given him rest round about from all his enemies;

2 That the king said unto Nā-thăn the prophet, See now, I dwell in an house of cedar, but the ark of God dwelleth within curtains.

3 And Nā-thăn said to the king, Go, do all that is in thine heart; for the LORD is with thee.

4 ¶ And it came to pass that night, that the word of the LORD came unto Nā-thăn, saying,

5 Go and tell my servant Dā-vĭd, Thus saith the LORD, Shalt thou build me an house for me to dwell in?

6 Whereas I have not dwelt in any house since the time that I brought up the children of $\check{I}\dot{s}-\check{r}\bar{a}-\check{e}l$ out of $\bar{E}-\check{g}\check{y}pt$, even to this day, but have walked in a tent and in a tabernacle.

7 In all the places wherein I have walked with all the children of Ĭśʻrā-ĕl spake I a word with any of the tribes of Ĭśʻrā-ĕl, whom I commanded to feed my people Ĭśʻrā-ĕl, saying, Why build ye not me an house of cedar?

8 Now therefore so shalt thou say unto my servant Dā'vĭd, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, I took thee from the sheepcote, from following the sheep, to be ruler over my people, over Ĭś'rā-ĕl:

9 And I was with thee whithersoever thou wentest, and have cut off all thine enemies out of thy sight, and have made thee a great name, like unto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

10 Moreover I will appoint a place for my people Ĭś-rā-ĕl, and will plant them, that they may dwell in a place of their own, and move no more; neither shall the children of wickedness afflict them any more, as beforetime,

11 And as since the time that I commanded judges to be over my people Ĭś-rā-ĕl, and have caused thee to rest from all thine enemies. Also the LORD telleth thee that he will make thee an house.

12 \P And when thy days be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, I will set up thy seed after thee, which shall proceed out of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom.

13 He shall build an house for my name, and I will stablish the throne of his kingdom for ever.

14 I will be his father, and he shall be my son. If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men:

15 But my mercy shall not depart away from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I put away before thee.

16 And thine house and thy kingdom shall be established for ever before thee: thy throne shall be established for ever.

17 According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so did Nā-thăn speak unto Dā-vĭd.

18 ¶ Then went king Dā-vid in, and sat before the LORD, and he said, Who am I, O Lord GOD? and what is my house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a small thing in thy sight, O Lord God; but thou hast spoken also of thy servant's house for a great while to come. And is this the manner of man, O Lord God? 20 And what can Dā-vĭd say more unto thee? for thou, Lord God, knowest thy servant.

21 For thy word's sake, and according to thine own heart, hast thou done all these great things, to make thy servant know them.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O LORD God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God beside thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears.

23 And what one nation in the earth is like thy people, even like $\check{I}\dot{s}'r\bar{a}-\check{e}l$, whom God went to redeem for a people to himself, and to make him a name, and to do for you great things and terrible, for thy land, before thy people, which thou redeemedst to thee from $\bar{E}'\dot{g}\check{y}pt$, from the nations and their gods?

24 For thou hast confirmed to thyself thy people Ĭś-rā-ĕl to be a people unto thee for ever: and thou, LORD, art become their God.

25 And now, O LORD God, the word that thou hast spoken concerning thy servant, and concerning his house, establish it for ever, and do as thou hast said.

26 And let thy name be magnified for ever, saying, The LORD of hosts is the God over Ĭś-rā-ĕl: and let the house of thy servant Dā-vĭd be established before thee.

27 For thou, O LORD of hosts, God of Ĭś-rã-ĕl, hast revealed to thy servant, saying, I will build thee an house: therefore hath thy servant found in his heart to pray this prayer unto thee.

28 And now, O Lord GOD, thou art that God, and thy words be true, and thou hast promised this goodness unto thy servant:

29 Therefore now let it please thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may continue for ever before thee: for thou, O Lord God, hast spoken it: and with thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed for ever.

CHAPTER 8

And after this it came to pass, that Dā-vid smote the Phil-is-tīnes, and subdued them: and Dā-vid took Měth-eg-am-mah out of the hand of the Phil-is-tīnes.

2 And he smote Mō-ab, and measured them with a line, casting them down to the ground; even with two lines measured he to put to death, and with one full line to keep alive. And so the Mō-ab-ites became Dā-vid's servants, and brought gifts.

3 ¶ Dā'vĭd smote also Hăd-ă-dē'zĕr, the son of Rē'hŏb, king of Zō'băh, as he went to recover his border at the river Eu-phrā'tēs.

4 And Dā-vid took from him a thousand chariots, and seven hundred horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: and Dā-vid houghed all the chariot horses, but reserved of them for an hundred chariots.

5 And when the Sỹr-ĩ-ăns of Dă-măs-cus came to succour Hăd-ă-dē-zer king of Zō-băh, Dā-vid slew of the Sỹr-ĩ-ăns two and twenty thousand men.

6 Then Dā-vid put garrisons in Sỹr-i-a of Dā-mas-cus: and the Sỹr-i-ans became servants to Dā-vid, and brought gifts. And the LORD preserved Dā-vid whithersoever he went.

7 And Dā'vĭd took the shields of gold that were on the servants of Hăd-ă-dē'zĕr, and brought them to Jĕ-rû'să-lĕm.

8 And from Bē-tăh, and from Bĕ-rō-thai, cities of Hăd-ă-dē-zĕr, king Dā-vĭd took exceeding much brass.

9 ¶ When Tō-i king of Hā-mặth heard that Dā-vid had smitten all the host of Hǎd-ā-dē-zĕr,

10 Then Tō-íī sent Jôr-ám his son unto king Dā-vid, to salute him, and to bless him, because he had fought against Hăd-ă-dē-zĕr, and smitten him: for Hăd-ă-dē-zĕr had wars with Tō-íī. And Jôr-ám brought with him vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and vessels of brass:

11 Which also king Dā-vǐd did dedicate unto the LORD, with the silver and gold that he had dedicated of all nations which he subdued;

12 Of Sỹr-ĩ-ă, and of Mō-áb, and of the children of Ăm-mon, and of the Phĭl-ĩs-tīnes, and of Ăm-ã-lĕk, and of the spoil of Hăd-ă-dē-zĕr, son of Rē-hŏb, king of Zō-băh.

13 And $D\bar{a}$ -vĭd gat him a name when he returned from smiting of the Syr-ĩ-ăns in the valley of salt, being eighteen thousand men.

14 \P And he put garrisons in \bar{E} -dom; throughout all \bar{E} -dom put he garrisons, and all they of \bar{E} -dom became $D\bar{a}$ -vĭd's servants. And the LORD preserved $D\bar{a}$ -vĭd whithersoever he went.

15 And Dā-vĭd reigned over all Ĭs-rā-ĕl; and Dā-vĭd executed judgment and justice unto all his people.

16 And Jō-ab the son of Zer-ū-ī-ah was over the host; and Je-hosh-a-phat the son of A-hī-lud was recorder;

17 And Zā-dŏk the son of Ă-hī-tŭb, and Ă-hĭm-ĕ-lĕch the son of Ă-bī-ă-thär, were the priests; and Sĕ-rai-ăh was the scribe;

18 And Bĕ-nai-ah the son of Jĕ-hoi-a-dă was over both the Chĕr-ĕ-thītes and the Pĕl-ĕ-thītes; and Dā-vid's sons were chief rulers.

CHAPTER 9

And Dā-vid said, Is there yet any that is left of the house of Saul, that I may shew him kindness for Jŏn-a-than's sake?

2 And there was of the house of Saul a servant whose name was Zī-bă. And when they had called him unto Dā-vǐd, the king said unto him, Art thou Zī-bă? And he said, Thy servant is he.

3 And the king said, Is there not yet any of the house of Saul, that I may shew the kindness of God unto him? And Zī-bă said unto the king, Jŏn-ã-thăn hath yet a son, which is lame on his feet.

4 And the king said unto him, Where is he? And Zī-bă said unto the king, Behold, he is in the house of Mā-chĭr, the son of Ăm-mĭ-el, in Lō-de-bär.

5 ¶ Then king Dā'vĭd sent, and fetched him out of the house of Mā'chĭr, the son of Ăm'mĭ-ĕl, from Lō'dĕ-bär.

6 Now when Mĕ-phĭb-´ō-shĕth, the son of Jŏn-´ā-thăn, the son of Saul, was come unto Dā-´vĭd, he fell on his face, and did reverence. And Dā-´vĭd said, Mĕ-phĭb-´ō-shĕth. And he answered, Behold thy servant!

7 ¶ And Dā'vĭd said unto him, Fear not: for I will surely shew thee kindness for Jŏn'ā-thăn thy father's sake, and will restore thee all the land of Saul thy father; and thou shalt eat bread at my table continually.

8 And he bowed himself, and said, What is thy servant, that thou shouldest look upon such a dead dog as I am?

9 ¶ Then the king called to Zī-bă, Saul's servant, and said unto him, I have given unto thy master's son all that pertained to Saul and to all his house.

10 Thou therefore, and thy sons, and thy servants, shall till the land for him, and thou shalt bring in the fruits, that thy master's son may have food to eat: but Mĕ-phĭb'ŏ-shĕth thy master's son shall eat bread alway at my table. Now Zī-bă had fifteen sons and twenty servants.

11 Then said Zī-ʻbă unto the king, According to all that my lord the king hath commanded his servant, so shall thy servant do. As for Mĕ-phĭb-ʻo-shĕth, said the king, he shall eat at my table, as one of the king's sons.

12 And Mě-phǐb-o-shěth had a young son, whose name was Mī-chă. And all that dwelt in the house of Zī-bă were servants unto Mě-phǐb-o-shěth.

13 So Mě-phǐb-o-shěth dwelt in Jě-rû-să-lěm: for he did eat continually at the king's table; and was lame on both his feet.

CHAPTER 10

And it came to pass after this, that the king of the children of Ăm-mon died, and Hā-nun his son reigned in his stead.

2 Then said $D\bar{a}$ -vĭd, I will shew kindness unto $H\bar{a}$ -nŭn the son of $N\bar{a}$ -hăsh, as his father shewed kindness unto me. And $D\bar{a}$ -vĭd sent to comfort him by the hand of his servants for his father. And Dā-vĭd's servants came into the land of the children of Ăm-mon.

3 And the princes of the children of Ăm-mon said unto Hā-nun their lord, Thinkest thou that Dā-vid doth honour thy father, that he hath sent comforters unto thee? hath not Dā-vid rather sent his servants unto thee, to search the city, and to spy it out, and to overthrow it?

4 Wherefore Hā-nun took Dā-vid's servants, and shaved off the one half of their beards, and cut off their garments in the middle, even to their buttocks, and sent them away.

5 When they told it unto Dā-vid, he sent to meet them, because the men were greatly ashamed: and the king said, Tarry at Jĕr-î-chō until your beards be grown, and then return.

 $6\P$ And when the children of $\mbox{\sc Am-mon}$ saw that they stank before $\mbox{\sc Da-vid}$, the children of $\mbox{\sc Am-mon}$ sent and hired the $\mbox{\sc Syr-i-ans}$ of $\mbox{\sc Beth-re-hob}$, and the $\mbox{\sc Syr-i-ans}$ of $\mbox{\sc Zo-ba}$, twenty thousand footmen, and of king $\mbox{\sc Ma-a-ca}$ a thousand men, and of $\mbox{\sc Ish-tob}$ twelve thousand men.

7 And when Dā-vĭd heard of it, he sent Jō-ab, and all the host of the mighty men.

8 And the children of Ăm-mon came out, and put the battle in array at the entering in of the gate: and the Sỹr-ĩ-ăns of Zō-bă, and of Rē-hŏb, and Ĭsh-tŏb, and Mā-ã-cäh, were by themselves in the field.

9 When Jō-ab saw that the front of the battle was against him before and behind, he chose of all the choice men of Is-a-el, and put them in array against the Syr-a-ens:

10 And the rest of the people he delivered into the hand of Åb-ı̃-shai his brother, that he might put them in array against the children of Ăm-mon.

11 And he said, If the Sỹr-ĩ-ăns be too strong for me, then thou shalt help me: but if the children of Ăm-mon be too strong for thee, then I will come and help thee.

12 Be of good courage, and let us play the men for our people, and for the cities of our God: and the LORD do that which seemeth him good.

13 And Jō-ab drew nigh, and the people that were with him, unto the battle against the Syr-i-ans: and they fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ăm-mon saw that the Sỹr-ĩ-ans were fled, then fled they also before Ăb-ĩ-shai, and entered into the city. So Jō-ab returned from the children of Ăm-mon, and came to Je-rû-sa-lem.

15 ¶ And when the Sỹr-ĩ-ăns saw that they were smitten before Ĭś-rā-ĕl, they gathered themselves together.

16 And Hăd-ă-rē-zer sent, and brought out the Sỹr-ĩ-ăns that were beyond the river: and they came to Hē-lăm; and Shō-băch the captain of the host of Hăd-ă-rē-zer went before them.

17 And when it was told Dā-vid, he gathered all Ĭs-rā-el together, and passed over Jôr-dăn, and came to Hē-lām. And the Sỹr-i-ans set themselves in array against Dā-vid, and fought with him.

18 And the Sỹr-ĩ-ăns fled before Ĭś-rā-ĕl; and Dā-vĭd slew the men of seven hundred chariots of the Sỹr-ĩ-ăns, and forty thousand horsemen, and smote Shō-băch the captain of their host, who died there.

19 And when all the kings that were servants to Hăd-ă-rē-zĕr saw that they were smitten before Ĭś-rā-ĕl, they made peace with Ĭś-rā-ĕl, and served them. So the Sỹr-ĩ-ans feared to help the children of Ăm-mon any more.

CHAPTER 11

And it came to pass, after the year was expired, at the time when kings go forth to battle, that Dā'vĭd sent Jō'ab, and his servants with him, and all Ĭś'rā-ĕl; and they destroyed the children of Ăm'mon, and besieged Rab'bah. But Dā'vĭd tarried still at Jĕ-rû'să-lĕm.

 $2\P$ And it came to pass in an eveningtide, that $D\bar{a}'v\bar{v}d$ arose from off his bed, and walked upon the roof of the king's house: and from the roof he saw a woman washing herself; and the woman was very beautiful to look upon.

3 And Dā-vĭd sent and inquired after the woman. And one said, Is not this Băth-shĕ-bă, the daughter of \bar{E} -lī-ām, the wife of \bar{U} -rī-āh the Hĭt-tīte?

4 And Dā'vĭd sent messengers, and took her; and she came in unto him, and he lay with her; for she was purified from her uncleanness: and she returned unto her house.

5 And the woman conceived, and sent and told Dā'vĭd, and said, I am with child.

6 ¶ And Dā'vĭd sent to Jō'āb, saying, Send me Ū-rī'āh the Hĭt'tīte. And Jō'āb sent Ū-rī'āh to Dā'vĭd.

7 And when Ū-rī-ah was come unto him, Dā-vid demanded of him how Jō-ab did, and how the people did, and how the war prospered.

8 And Dā-vid said to \bar{U} -rī-ah, Go down to thy house, and wash thy feet. And \bar{U} -rī-ah departed out of the king's house, and there followed him a mess of meat from the king. 9 But \bar{U} -rī-ah slept at the door of the king's house with all the servants of his lord, and went not down to his house.

10 And when they had told Dā-vid, saying, Ū-rī-ah went not down unto his house, Dā-vid said unto Ū-rī-ah, Camest thou not from thy journey? why then didst thou not go down unto thine house?

11 And \bar{U} -rī-āh said unto Dā-vǐd, The ark, and Ĭs-rā-ĕl, and Jûd-ăh, abide in tents; and my lord Jō-āb, and the servants of my lord, are encamped in the open fields; shall I then go into mine house, to eat and to drink, and to lie with my wife? as thou livest, and as thy soul liveth, I will not do this thing.

12 And Dā-vid said to Ū-rī-āh, Tarry here to day also, and to morrow I will let thee depart. So Ū-rī-āh abode in Jē-rû-să-lĕm that day, and the morrow.

13 And when Dā'vĭd had called him, he did eat and drink before him; and he made him drunk: and at even he went out to lie on his bed with the servants of his lord, but went not down to his house.

14 \P And it came to pass in the morning, that Dā-vĭd wrote a letter to Jō-ab, and sent it by the hand of \bar{U} -rī-ah.

15 And he wrote in the letter, saying, Set ye \bar{U} -rī-áh in the forefront of the hottest battle, and retire ye from him, that he may be smitten, and die.

16 And it came to pass, when Jōʻāb observed the city, that he assigned \bar{U} -rīʻāh unto a place where he knew that valiant men were.

17 And the men of the city went out, and fought with Jō-ab: and there fell some of the people of the servants of Dā-vid; and \bar{U} -rī-ah the Hĭt-tīte died also.

18 ¶ Then Jō-ab sent and told Dā-vid all the things concerning the war;

19 And charged the messenger, saying, When thou hast made an end of telling the matters of the war unto the king,

20 And if so be that the king's wrath arise, and he say unto thee, Wherefore approached ye so nigh unto the city when ye did fight? knew ye not that they would shoot from the wall?

21 Who smote \check{A} -b \check{m} - \check{e} -l \check{e} ch the son of J \check{e} -r \check{u} b- \check{e} -sh \check{e} th? did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone upon him from the wall, that he died in Th \check{e} -b \check{e} z? why went ye nigh the wall? then say thou, Thy servant \bar{U} -r \bar{i} - \check{a} h the H \check{i} t- \check{t} - \check{i} te is dead also. 22 \P So the messenger went, and came and shewed D \bar{a} - \check{v} d all that J \bar{o} - \check{a} b had sent him for.

23 And the messenger said unto Dā-vǐd, Surely the men prevailed against us, and came out unto us into the field, and we were upon them even unto the entering of the gate. 24 And the shooters shot from off the wall upon thy servants; and some of the king's servants be dead, and thy servant \bar{U} -rī-ǎh the Hǐt-tīte is dead also.

25 Then Dā-vǐd said unto the messenger, Thus shalt thou say unto Jō-áb, Let not this thing displease thee, for the sword devoureth one as well as another: make thy battle more strong against the city, and overthrow it: and encourage thou him.

26 \P And when the wife of \bar{U} -rī-áh heard that \bar{U} -rī-áh her husband was dead, she mourned for her husband.

27 And when the mourning was past, Dā-vid sent and fetched her to his house, and she became his wife, and bare him a son. But the thing that Dā-vid had done displeased the LORD.

CHAPTER 12

And the LORD sent Nā-thăn unto Dā-vǐd. And he came unto him, and said unto him, There were two men in one city; the one rich, and the other poor.

2 The rich man had exceeding many flocks and herds:

3 But the poor man had nothing, save one little ewe lamb, which he had bought and nourished up: and it grew up together with him, and with his children; it did eat of his own meat, and drank of his own cup, and lay in his bosom, and was unto him as a daughter.

4 And there came a traveller unto the rich man, and he spared to take of his own flock and of his own herd, to dress for the wayfaring man that was come unto him; but took the poor man's lamb, and dressed it for the man that was come to him.

5 And Dā-vid's anger was greatly kindled against the man; and he said to Nā-thăn, As the LORD liveth, the man that hath done this thing shall surely die:

6 And he shall restore the lamb fourfold, because he did this thing, and because he had no pity.

7 ¶ And Nā-thăn said to Dā-vǐd, Thou art the man. Thus saith the LORD God of Ĭs-rā-el, I anointed thee king over Ĭs-rā-el, and I delivered thee out of the hand of Saul;

8 And I gave thee thy master's house, and thy master's wives into thy bosom, and gave thee the house of Ĭś-rā-ĕl and of Jûd-ăh; and if that had been too little, I would moreover have given unto thee such and such things.

9 Wherefore hast thou despised the commandment of the LORD, to do evil in his sight? thou hast killed \bar{U} -rī-ah the Hĭt-tīte with the sword, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slain him with the sword of the children of Am-mon.

10 Now therefore the sword shall never depart from thine house; because thou hast despised me, and hast taken the wife of \bar{U} -rī-ah the Hĭt-tīte to be thy wife.

11 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will raise up evil against thee out of thine own house, and I will take thy wives before thine eyes, and give them unto thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wives in the sight of this sun.

12 For thou didst it secretly: but I will do this thing before all Is-ra-eI, and before the sun.

13 And Dā-vǐd said unto Nā-thăn, I have sinned against the LORD. And Nā-thăn said unto Dā-vǐd, The LORD also hath put away thy sin; thou shalt not die.

14 Howbeit, because by this deed thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the LORD to blaspheme, the child also that is born unto thee shall surely die.

15 \P And Nā-thăn departed unto his house. And the LORD struck the child that \bar{U} -rī-ăh's wife bare unto Dā-vǐd, and it was very sick.

16 Dā'vĭd therefore besought God for the child; and Dā'vĭd fasted, and went in, and lay all night upon the earth.

17 And the elders of his house arose, and went to him, to raise him up from the earth: but he would not, neither did he eat bread with them.

18 And it came to pass on the seventh day, that the child died. And the servants of Dā'vĭd feared to tell him that the child was dead: for they said, Behold, while the child was yet alive, we spake unto him, and he would not hearken unto our voice: how will he then vex himself, if we tell him that the child is dead?

19 But when Dā'vĭd saw that his servants whispered, Dā'vĭd perceived that the child was dead: therefore Dā'vĭd said unto his servants, Is the child dead? And they said, He is dead.

20 Then Dā'vĭd arose from the earth, and washed, and anointed himself, and changed his apparel, and came into the house of the LORD, and worshipped: then he came to his own house; and when he required, they set bread before him, and he did eat.

21 Then said his servants unto him, What thing is this that thou hast done? thou didst fast and weep for the child, while it was alive; but when the child was dead, thou didst rise and eat bread.

22 And he said, While the child was yet alive, I fasted and wept: for I said, Who can tell whether GOD will be gracious to me, that the child may live?

23 But now he is dead, wherefore should I fast? can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me.

24 ¶ And Dā'vĭd comforted Băth'shĕ-bă his wife, and went in unto her, and lay with her: and she bare a son, and he called his name Sŏl'ŏ-mon: and the LORD loved him.

25 And he sent by the hand of Nā-than the prophet; and he called his name Jĕd-ĭ-dī-ah, because of the LORD.

26 ¶ And Jō-ab fought against Rab-bah of the children of Am-mon, and took the royal city.

27 And Jō-ab sent messengers to Dā-vid, and said, I have fought against Rāb-bāh, and have taken the city of waters. 28 Now therefore gather the rest of the people together, and encamp against the city, and take it: lest I take the city, and it be called after my name.

29 And Dā'vĭd gathered all the people together, and went to Răb'băh, and fought against it, and took it.

30 And he took their king's crown from off his head, the weight whereof was a talent of gold with the precious stones: and it was set on Dā´vĭd´s head. And he brought forth the spoil of the city in great abundance.

31 And he brought forth the people that were therein, and put them under saws, and under harrows of iron, and under axes of iron, and made them pass through the brickkiln: and thus did he unto all the cities of the children of Ăm-mon. So Dā-vid and all the people returned unto Jē-rû-să-lĕm.

CHAPTER 13

And it came to pass after this, that Åb'să-lom the son of Dā'vĭd had a fair sister, whose name was Tā'mär; and Ăm'nŏn the son of Dā'vĭd loved her.

2 And Ăm-non was so vexed, that he fell sick for his sister Tā-mār; for she was a virgin; and Ăm-non thought it hard for him to do any thing to her.

3 But Ăm-non had a friend, whose name was Jon-a-dab, the son of Shim-e-ah Da-vid's brother: and Jon-a-dab was a very subtil man.

4 And he said unto him, Why art thou, being the king's son, lean from day to day? wilt thou not tell me? And Ăm-non said unto him, I love Tā-mār, my brother Ăb-sā-lom's sister. 5 And Jōn-ā-dāb said unto him, Lay thee down on thy bed, and make thyself sick: and when thy father cometh to see thee, say unto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tā-mār come, and give me meat, and dress the meat in my sight, that I may see it, and eat it at her hand.

6 ¶ So Ăm-non lay down, and made himself sick: and when the king was come to see him, Ăm-non said unto the king, I pray thee, let Tā-mar my sister come, and make me a couple of cakes in my sight, that I may eat at her hand.

7 Then Dā-vid sent home to Tā-mär, saying, Go now to thy brother Ăm-nŏn's house, and dress him meat.

8 So Tā'mär went to her brother Ăm'nŏn's house; and he was laid down. And she took flour, and kneaded it, and made cakes in his sight, and did bake the cakes.

9 And she took a pan, and poured them out before him; but he refused to eat. And Ăm-non said, Have out all men from me. And they went out every man from him.

10 And Ăm-non said unto Tā-mar, Bring the meat into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Tā-mar took the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Ăm-non her brother.

11 And when she had brought them unto him to eat, he took hold of her, and said unto her, Come lie with me, my sister. 12 And she answered him, Nay, my brother, do not force me; for no such thing ought to be done in Ĭś-rā-ĕl: do not thou this folly.

13 And I, whither shall I cause my shame to go? and as for thee, thou shalt be as one of the fools in Ĭś-rā-ĕl. Now therefore, I pray thee, speak unto the king; for he will not withhold me from thee.

14 Howbeit he would not hearken unto her voice: but, being stronger than she, forced her, and lay with her.

15 ¶ Then Ăm-non hated her exceedingly; so that the hatred wherewith he hated her was greater than the love wherewith he had loved her. And Ăm-non said unto her, Arise, be gone.

16 And she said unto him, There is no cause: this evil in sending me away is greater than the other that thou didst unto me. But he would not hearken unto her.

17 Then he called his servant that ministered unto him, and said, Put now this woman out from me, and bolt the door after her.

18 And she had a garment of divers colours upon her: for with such robes were the king's daughters that were virgins apparelled. Then his servant brought her out, and bolted the door after her.

19 ¶ And Tā-mär put ashes on her head, and rent her garment of divers colours that was on her, and laid her hand on her head, and went on crying.

20 And Åb-să-lom her brother said unto her, Hath Åm-nŏn thy brother been with thee? but hold now thy peace, my sister: he is thy brother; regard not this thing. So Tā-mär remained desolate in her brother Ăb-să-lom's house.

21 \P But when king Dā-vǐd heard of all these things, he was very wroth.

22 And Ăb-să-lom spake unto his brother Ăm-nŏn neither good nor bad: for Ăb-să-lom hated Ăm-nŏn, because he had forced his sister Tā-mär.

23 ¶ And it came to pass after two full years, that Åb´să-lom had sheepshearers in Bā´al-hā´zôr, which is beside Ēʻphră-ĭm: and Ăb´să-lom invited all the king's sons.

24 And Ăb-să-lom came to the king, and said, Behold now, thy servant hath sheepshearers; let the king, I beseech thee, and his servants go with thy servant.

25 And the king said to Åb-să-lom, Nay, my son, let us not all now go, lest we be chargeable unto thee. And he pressed him: howbeit he would not go, but blessed him.

26 Then said Ăb-să-lom, If not, I pray thee, let my brother Ăm-non go with us. And the king said unto him, Why should he go with thee?

27 But Åb-să-lom pressed him, that he let Åm-non and all the king's sons go with him.

28 ¶ Now Ăb-să-lom had commanded his servants, saying, Mark ye now when Ăm-nŏn's heart is merry with wine, and when I say unto you, Smite Ăm-nŏn; then kill him, fear not: have not I commanded you? be courageous, and be valiant. 29 And the servants of Ăb-să-lom did unto Ăm-nŏn as Ăb-să-lom had commanded. Then all the king's sons arose, and every man gat him up upon his mule, and fled.

30 ¶ And it came to pass, while they were in the way, that tidings came to Dā'vĭd, saying, Ăb'să-lom hath slain all the king's sons, and there is not one of them left.

31 Then the king arose, and tare his garments, and lay on the earth; and all his servants stood by with their clothes rent

32 And Jŏnʻa-dăb, the son of Shǐmʻe-ah Dāʻvĭd's brother, answered and said, Let not my lord suppose that they have slain all the young men the king's sons; for Amʻnŏn only is dead: for by the appointment of Abʻsa-lom this hath been determined from the day that he forced his sister Tāʻmär. 33 Now therefore let not my lord the king take the thing to his heart, to think that all the king's sons are dead: for Amʻnŏn only is dead.

34 But Ăb-sa-lom fled. And the young man that kept the watch lifted up his eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came much people by the way of the hill side behind him. 35 And Jŏn-a-dab said unto the king, Behold, the king's sons come: as thy servant said, so it is.

36 And it came to pass, as soon as he had made an end of speaking, that, behold, the king's sons came, and lifted up their voice and wept: and the king also and all his servants wept very sore.

37 \P But Åb-să-lom fled, and went to Tăl-mai, the son of Ăm-mĭ-hŭd, king of Gē-shùr. And $D\bar{a}$ -vĭd mourned for his son every day.

38 So Ăb-să-lom fled, and went to Gē-shur, and was there three years.

39 And the soul of king Dā-vĭd longed to go forth unto Ăb-să-lom: for he was comforted concerning Ăm-nŏn, seeing he was dead.

CHAPTER 14

 N^{ow} Jō-ab the son of Zĕr-ū-ī-ah perceived that the king's heart was toward Ab-sa-lom.

2 And Jō-ab sent to Tĕ-kō-ah, and fetched thence a wise woman, and said unto her, I pray thee, feign thyself to be a mourner, and put on now mourning apparel, and anoint not thyself with oil, but be as a woman that had a long time mourned for the dead:

3 And come to the king, and speak on this manner unto him. So Jō-ab put the words in her mouth.

 $4\,$ ¶ And when the woman of Tě-kō-áh spake to the king, she fell on her face to the ground, and did obeisance, and said, Help, O king.

5 And the king said unto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, I am indeed a widow woman, and mine husband is dead.

6 And thy handmaid had two sons, and they two strove together in the field, and there was none to part them, but the one smote the other, and slew him.

7 And, behold, the whole family is risen against thine handmaid, and they said, Deliver him that smote his brother, that we may kill him, for the life of his brother whom he slew; and we will destroy the heir also: and so they shall quench my coal which is left, and shall not leave to my husband neither name nor remainder upon the earth.

8 And the king said unto the woman, Go to thine house, and I will give charge concerning thee.

9 And the woman of Tě-kō-áh said unto the king, My lord, O king, the iniquity be on me, and on my father's house: and the king and his throne be guiltless.

10 And the king said, Whosoever saith ought unto thee, bring him to me, and he shall not touch thee any more.

11 Then said she, I pray thee, let the king remember the LORD thy God, that thou wouldest not suffer the revengers of blood to destroy any more, lest they destroy my son. And he said, As the LORD liveth, there shall not one hair of thy son fall to the earth.

12 Then the woman said, Let thine handmaid, I pray thee, speak one word unto my lord the king. And he said, Say on. 13 And the woman said, Wherefore then hast thou thought such a thing against the people of God? for the king doth speak this thing as one which is faulty, in that the king doth not fetch home again his banished.

14 For we must needs die, and are as water spilt on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again; neither doth God respect any person: yet doth he devise means, that his banished be not expelled from him.

15 Now therefore that I am come to speak of this thing unto my lord the king, it is because the people have made me afraid: and thy handmaid said, I will now speak unto the king; it may be that the king will perform the request of his handmaid.

16 For the king will hear, to deliver his handmaid out of the hand of the man that would destroy me and my son together out of the inheritance of God.

17 Then thine handmaid said, The word of my lord the king shall now be comfortable: for as an angel of God, so is my lord the king to discern good and bad: therefore the LORD thy God will be with thee.

18 Then the king answered and said unto the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the thing that I shall ask thee. And the woman said, Let my lord the king now speak.

19 And the king said, Is not the hand of Jō-ab with thee in all this? And the woman answered and said, As thy soul liveth, my lord the king, none can turn to the right hand or to the left from ought that my lord the king hath spoken: for thy servant $J\bar{o}$ - Δb , he bade me, and he put all these words in the mouth of thine handmaid:

20 To fetch about this form of speech hath thy servant Jō-ab done this thing: and my lord is wise, according to the wisdom of an angel of God, to know all things that are in the earth.

21 ¶ And the king said unto Jō-ab, Behold now, I have done this thing: go therefore, bring the young man Ab-sa-lom again.

22 And Jō-ab fell to the ground on his face, and bowed himself, and thanked the king: and Jō-ab said, To day thy servant knoweth that I have found grace in thy sight, my lord, O king, in that the king hath fulfilled the request of his servant.

23 So Jō-ab arose and went to Gē-shur, and brought Ab-sa-lom to Je-rû-sa-lem.

24 And the king said, Let him turn to his own house, and let him not see my face. So Ăb'să-lom returned to his own house, and saw not the king's face.

25 ¶ But in all Ĭś-rā-ĕl there was none to be so much praised as Ăb-să-lom for his beauty: from the sole of his foot even to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him.

26 And when he polled his head, (for it was at every year's end that he polled it: because the hair was heavy on him, therefore he polled it:) he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred shē-kěls after the king's weight.

27 And unto Åb-să-lom there were born three sons, and one daughter, whose name was Tā-mär: she was a woman of a fair countenance.

28 ¶ So Åb-să-lom dwelt two full years in Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm, and saw not the king's face.

29 Therefore Ăb-să-lom sent for Jō-ab, to have sent him to the king; but he would not come to him: and when he sent again the second time, he would not come.

30 Therefore he said unto his servants, See, Jō-ab's field is near mine, and he hath barley there; go and set it on fire. And Ab-ab-sa-lom's servants set the field on fire.

31 Then Jō-ab arose, and came to Ab-sa-lom unto his house, and said unto him, Wherefore have thy servants set my field on fire?

32 And Åb´-să-lom answered Jō´-āb, Behold, I sent unto thee, saying, Come hither, that I may send thee to the king, to say, Wherefore am I come from Gē´-shùr? it had been good for me to have been there still: now therefore let me see the king's face; and if there be any iniquity in me, let him kill me.

33 So Jō-ab came to the king, and told him: and when he had called for Ab-sa-lom, he came to the king, and bowed himself on his face to the ground before the king: and the king kissed Ab-sa-lom.

CHAPTER 15

And it came to pass after this, that Ăb-să-lom prepared him chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him.

2 And Ăb-să-lom rose up early, and stood beside the way of the gate: and it was so, that when any man that had a controversy came to the king for judgment, then Ăb-să-lom called unto him, and said, Of what city art thou? And he said, Thy servant is of one of the tribes of Ĭs-rā-ĕl. 3 And Ăb-să-lom said unto him, See, thy matters are good and right; but there is no man deputed of the king to hear thee

4 Åb-să-lom said moreover, Oh that I were made judge in the land, that every man which hath any suit or cause might come unto me, and I would do him justice!

5 And it was so, that when any man came nigh to him to do him obeisance, he put forth his hand, and took him, and kissed him.

6 And on this manner did Ăb-să-lom to all Ĭs-rā-ĕl that came to the king for judgment: so Ăb-să-lom stole the hearts of the men of Ĭs-rā-ĕl.

7 ¶ And it came to pass after forty years, that Åb-să-lom said unto the king, I pray thee, let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed unto the LORD, in Hē-brŏn.

8 For thy servant vowed a vow while I abode at Gē-shur in Sỹr-ĩ-ă, saying, If the LORD shall bring me again indeed to Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm, then I will serve the LORD.

9 And the king said unto him, Go in peace. So he arose, and went to Hē-brŏn.

10 \P But Åb-să-lom sent spies throughout all the tribes of Ĭś-rā-ĕl, saying, As soon as ye hear the sound of the trumpet, then ye shall say, Ăb-să-lom reigneth in Hē-brŏn. 11 And with Åb-să-lom went two hundred men out of Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm, that were called; and they went in their simplicity, and they knew not any thing.

12 And Ăb-să-lom sent for Ă-hĭth-ŏ-phĕl the Gī-lō-nīte, Dā-vĭd's counseller, from his city, even from Gī-lōh, while he offered sacrifices. And the conspiracy was strong; for the people increased continually with Ăb-să-lom.

13 ¶ And there came a messenger to Dā-vĭd, saying, The hearts of the men of Ĭś-rā-ĕl are after Ăb-să-lom.

14 And Dā'vĭd said unto all his servants that were with him at Jĕ-rû'să-lĕm, Arise, and let us flee; for we shall not else escape from Ăb'să-lom: make speed to depart, lest he overtake us suddenly, and bring evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword.

15 And the king's servants said unto the king, Behold, thy servants are ready to do whatsoever my lord the king shall appoint.

16 And the king went forth, and all his household after him. And the king left ten women, which were concubines, to keep the house.

17 And the king went forth, and all the people after him, and tarried in a place that was far off.

18 And all his servants passed on beside him; and all the Chĕr-ĕ-thītes, and all the Pĕl-ĕ-thītes, and all the Gĭt-tītes, six hundred men which came after him from Găth, passed on before the king.

19 ¶ Then said the king to Ĭt-tā-ʿī the Gĭt-ʿtīte, Wherefore goest thou also with us? return to thy place, and abide with the king; for thou art a stranger, and also an exile.

20 Whereas thou camest but yesterday, should I this day make thee go up and down with us? seeing I go whither I may, return thou, and take back thy brethren: mercy and truth be with thee.

21 And Ĭt-tā-ʿī answered the king, and said, As the LORD liveth, and as my lord the king liveth, surely in what place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, even there also will thy servant be.

22 And Dā-vǐd said to Ĭt-tā-ī, Go and pass over. And Ĭt-tā-ī the Gĭt-tīte passed over, and all his men, and all the little ones that were with him.

23 And all the country wept with a loud voice, and all the people passed over: the king also himself passed over the brook Kī-drŏn, and all the people passed over, toward the way of the wilderness.

24 ¶ And lo Zā-dŏk also, and all the Lē-vītes were with him, bearing the ark of the covenant of God: and they set down the ark of God; and Ă-bī-ă-thär went up, until all the people had done passing out of the city.

25 And the king said unto Zā'dŏk, Carry back the ark of God into the city: if I shall find favour in the eyes of the LORD, he will bring me again, and shew me both it, and his habitation:

26 But if he thus say, I have no delight in thee; behold, here am I, let him do to me as seemeth good unto him.

27 The king said also unto Zā'dŏk the priest, Art not thou a seer? return into the city in peace, and your two sons with you, Ă-hī'mă-ăz thy son, and Jŏn'ā-thăn the son of Ă-bī'-ă-thär.

28 See, I will tarry in the plain of the wilderness, until there come word from you to certify me.

29 Zā-dŏk therefore and Ă-bī-á-thär carried the ark of God again to Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm: and they tarried there.

30 ¶ And Dā'vĭd went up by the ascent of mount Ŏl'ī-vĕt, and wept as he went up, and had his head covered, and he went barefoot: and all the people that was with him covered every man his head, and they went up, weeping as they went up.

31 ¶ And one told Dā'vĭd, saying, Ă-hĭth'ŏ-phĕl is among the conspirators with Ăb'să-lom. And Dā'vĭd said, O LORD, I pray thee, turn the counsel of Ă-hĭth'ŏ-phĕl into foolishness.

32 ¶ And it came to pass, that when Dā-vĭd was come to the top of the mount, where he worshipped God, behold, Hū-shai the Är-chīte came to meet him with his coat rent, and earth upon his head:

33 Unto whom Dā'vĭd said, If thou passest on with me, then thou shalt be a burden unto me:

34 But if thou return to the city, and say unto Ăb-să-lom, I will be thy servant, O king; as I have been thy father's servant hitherto, so will I now also be thy servant: then mayest thou for me defeat the counsel of Ă-hǐth-'ŏ-phĕl.

35 And hast thou not there with thee Zā-dŏk and Ă-bī-á-thär the priests? therefore it shall be, that what thing soever thou shalt hear out of the king's house, thou shalt tell it to Zā-dŏk and Ă-bī-á-thär the priests.

36 Behold, they have there with them their two sons, Ä-hī-mă-az Zā-dŏk's son, and Jŏn-a-than Ă-bī-a-thar's son; and by them ye shall send unto me every thing that ye can hear.

37 So Hū-shai Dā-vĭd's friend came into the city, and Ăb-să-lom came into Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm.

CHAPTER 16

And when Dā-vid was a little past the top of the hill, behold, Zī-bă the servant of Mĕ-phĭb-ŏ-shĕth met him, with a couple of asses saddled, and upon them two hundred loaves of bread, and an hundred bunches of raisins, and an hundred of summer fruits, and a bottle of wine.

2 And the king said unto Zī-bă, What meanest thou by these? And Zī-bă said, The asses be for the king's household to ride on; and the bread and summer fruit for the young men to eat; and the wine, that such as be faint in the wilderness may drink.

3 And the king said, And where is thy master's son? And Zī-bă said unto the king, Behold, he abideth at Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm: for he said, To day shall the house of Ĭś-rā-ĕl restore me the kingdom of my father.

4 Then said the king to Zī-bă, Behold, thine are all that pertained unto Mĕ-phĭb-ŏ-shĕth. And Zī-bă said, I humbly beseech thee that I may find grace in thy sight, my lord, O king.

5 ¶ And when king Dā-vid came to Bă-hū-rim, behold, thence came out a man of the family of the house of Saul, whose name was Shim-ĕ-ī, the son of Gē-ră: he came forth, and cursed still as he came.

6 And he cast stones at Dā-vid, and at all the servants of king Dā-vid: and all the people and all the mighty men were on his right hand and on his left.

7 And thus said Shǐm-´e-ī when he cursed, Come out, come out, thou bloody man, and thou man of Bē-´lĭ-ăl:

8 The LORD hath returned upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose stead thou hast reigned; and the LORD hath delivered the kingdom into the hand of Åb-să-lom thy son: and, behold, thou art taken in thy mischief, because thou art a bloody man.

9 \P Then said $\check{A}b$ - \check{i} -shai the son of $\check{Z}\check{e}r$ - \bar{u} - \check{i} - $\check{a}h$ unto the king, Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? let me go over, I pray thee, and take off his head.

10 And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zěr-ū-ī-áh? so let him curse, because the LORD hath said unto him, Curse Dā-vǐd. Who shall then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

11 And Dā-vid said to Ăb-i-shai, and to all his servants,

Behold, my son, which came forth of my bowels, seeketh my life: how much more now may this Bĕn'jă-mīte do it? let him alone, and let him curse; for the LORD hath bidden him

12 It may be that the LORD will look on mine affliction, and that the LORD will requite me good for his cursing this day. 13 And as Dā-vǐd and his men went by the way, Shǐm-ĕ-ī went along on the hill's side over against him, and cursed as he went, and threw stones at him, and cast dust.

14 And the king, and all the people that were with him, came weary, and refreshed themselves there.

15 \P And Åb-'să-lom, and all the people the men of Ĭś-ʻrā-ĕl, came to Jĕ-rû-'să-lĕm, and Ă-hĭth-'ŏ-phĕl with him.

16 And it came to pass, when Hū-shai the Är-chīte, Dā-vǐd's friend, was come unto Ăb-să-lom, that Hū-shai said unto Ăb-să-lom, God save the king, God save the king.

17 And Ăb-să-lom said to Hū-shai, Is this thy kindness to thy friend? why wentest thou not with thy friend?

18 And Hū-shai said unto Åb-să-lom, Nay; but whom the LORD, and this people, and all the men of Ĭś-rā-ĕl, choose, his will I be, and with him will I abide.

19 And again, whom should I serve? should I not serve in the presence of his son? as I have served in thy father's presence, so will I be in thy presence.

20 ¶ Then said Ăb-să-lom to Ă-hĭth-ŏ-phĕl, Give counsel among you what we shall do.

21 And Ă-hĭth-cŏ-phĕl said unto Ăb-să-lom, Go in unto thy father's concubines, which he hath left to keep the house; and all Ĭs-rā-ĕl shall hear that thou art abhorred of thy father: then shall the hands of all that are with thee be strong.

22 So they spread Åb-să-lom a tent upon the top of the house; and Ăb-să-lom went in unto his father's concubines in the sight of all Ĭś-rā-ĕl.

23 And the counsel of Ă-hǐth-o-phel, which he counselled in those days, was as if a man had inquired at the oracle of God: so was all the counsel of Ă-hǐth-o-phel both with Dā-vid and with Ăb-să-lom.

CHAPTER 17

MOREOVER Ă-hǐth-o-phel said unto Ăb-să-lom, Let me now choose out twelve thousand men, and I will arise and pursue after Dā-vid this night:

2 And I will come upon him while he is weary and weak handed, and will make him afraid: and all the people that are with him shall flee; and I will smite the king only:

3 And I will bring back all the people unto thee: the man whom thou seekest is as if all returned: so all the people shall be in peace.

4 And the saying pleased Ăb´să-lom well, and all the elders of Ĭś´rā-ĕl.

5 Then said Ăb-să-lom, Call now Hū-shai the Är-chīte also, and let us hear likewise what he saith.

6 And when Hū-shai was come to Ăb-să-lom, Ăb-să-lom spake unto him, saying, Ă-hĭth-ŏ-phel hath spoken after this manner: shall we do after his saying? if not; speak thou.

7 And Hū-shai said unto Ăb-să-lom, The counsel that Ă-hĭth-ŏ-phĕl hath given is not good at this time.

8 For, said Hū-shai, thou knowest thy father and his men, that they be mighty men, and they be chafed in their minds, as a bear robbed of her whelps in the field: and thy father is a man of war, and will not lodge with the people.

9 Behold, he is hid now in some pit, or in some other place: and it will come to pass, when some of them be overthrown at the first, that whosoever heareth it will say, There is a slaughter among the people that follow Ăb'să-lom.

10 And he also that is valiant, whose heart is as the heart of a lion, shall utterly melt: for all Ĭś-rā-ĕl knoweth that thy father is a mighty man, and they which be with him are valiant men.

11 Therefore I counsel that all $\check{\text{Is}}$ 'r $\bar{\text{a}}$ - $\check{\text{e}}$ l be generally gathered unto thee, from Dăn even to Beer-shē-bă, as the sand that is by the sea for multitude; and that thou go to battle in thine own person.

12 So shall we come upon him in some place where he shall be found, and we will light upon him as the dew falleth on the ground: and of him and of all the men that are with him there shall not be left so much as one.

13 Moreover, if he be gotten into a city, then shall all Ĭś′rā-ĕl bring ropes to that city, and we will draw it into the river, until there be not one small stone found there.

14 And Ăb-să-lom and all the men of Ĭś-rā-ĕl said, The counsel of Hū-shai the Är-chīte is better than the counsel of Ă-hĭth-ŏ-phĕl. For the LORD had appointed to defeat the good counsel of Ă-hĭth-ŏ-phĕl, to the intent that the LORD might bring evil upon Ăb-să-lom.

15 ¶ Then said Hū-shai unto Zā-dŏk and to Ă-bī-ă-thär the priests, Thus and thus did Ă-hĭth-ŏ-phĕl counsel Ăb-să-lom and the elders of Ĭs-rā-ĕl; and thus and thus have I counselled.

16 Now therefore send quickly, and tell Dā'vĭd, saying, Lodge not this night in the plains of the wilderness, but speedily pass over; lest the king be swallowed up, and all the people that are with him.

17 Now Jŏn-ʿa-than and Ă-hī-ma-āz stayed by Ēn-rō-ʻgĕl; for they might not be seen to come into the city: and a wench went and told them; and they went and told king Dā-ʿvĭd.

18 Nevertheless a lad saw them, and told Åb-să-lom: but they went both of them away quickly, and came to a man's house in Bă-hū-rĭm, which had a well in his court; whither they went down.

19 And the woman took and spread a covering over the well's mouth, and spread ground corn thereon; and the thing was not known.

20 And when Åb'să-lom's servants came to the woman to the house, they said, Where is Ă-hī'mă-ăz and Jŏn'ā-thăn? And the woman said unto them, They be gone over the brook of water. And when they had sought and could not find them, they returned to Jĕ-rû'să-lĕm.

21 And it came to pass, after they were departed, that they came up out of the well, and went and told king Dā'vĭd, and said unto Dā'vĭd, Arise, and pass quickly over the water: for thus hath Ă-hĭth'ŏ-phĕl counselled against you.

22 Then Dā'vĭd arose, and all the people that were with him, and they passed over Jôr'dăn: by the morning light there lacked not one of them that was not gone over Jôr'dăn.

23 ¶ And when Ă-hĭth-´ŏ-phĕl saw that his counsel was not followed, he saddled his ass, and arose, and gat him home to his house, to his city, and put his household in order, and hanged himself, and died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father.

24 Then Dā'vĭd came to Mā-hă-nā'īm. And Ăb'să-lom passed over Jôr'dăn, he and all the men of Ĭs'rā-ĕl with him.

25 ¶ And Ăb-ʻsă-lom made Ă-mā-ʿsă captain of the host instead of Jō-ʿāb: which Ă-mā-ʿsă was a man-ʾs son, whose name was Ĭth-ʿrā an Ĭṣ-ʿrā-ĕl-īte, that went in to Ăb-ʿī-gail the daughter of Nā-ʿhāsh, sister to Zĕr-ū-ī-ʿāh Jō-ʿāb-ʾs mother. 26 So Ĭṣ-ʿrā-ĕl and Ăb-ʿsā-lom pitched in the land of Gīl-ʿĕ-ād. 27 ¶ And it came to pass, when Dā-ʿvĭd was come to Mā-hā-nā-ʿīm, that Shō-ʿbī the son of Nā-ʿhāsh of Rāb-ʿbāh of the children of Ām-mon, and Mā-ʿchĭr the son of Ām-mī-ĕl of Lō-ʿdĕ-bär, and Bär-zǐl-lā-ʿī the Gīl-ʿē-ād-īte of Rō-ʿgĕ-lĭm, 28 Brought beds, and basons, and earthen vessels, and wheat, and barley, and flour, and parched corn, and beans, and lentiles, and parched pulse,

29 And honey, and butter, and sheep, and cheese of kine, for Dā-vǐd, and for the people that were with him, to eat: for they said, The people is hungry, and weary, and thirsty, in the wilderness.

CHAPTER 18

And set captains of thousands and captains of hundreds over them.

2 And Dāʻvĭd sent forth a third part of the people under the hand of Jōʻab, and a third part under the hand of Ăbʻī-shai the son of Zĕr-ū-ī-ah, Jō-ab's brother, and a third part under the hand of Ĭt-tā-ī the Gĭt-tīte. And the king said unto the people, I will surely go forth with you myself also. 3 But the people answered, Thou shalt not go forth: for if we flee away, they will not care for us; neither if half of us die, will they care for us: but now thou art worth ten thousand of us: therefore now it is better that thou succour us out of the city.

4 And the king said unto them, What seemeth you best I will do. And the king stood by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundreds and by thousands.

5 And the king commanded Jō-ʿāb and Ăb-ʿī-shai and Ĭt-tā-ʿī, saying, Deal gently for my sake with the young man, even with Ab-ʿsă-lom. And all the people heard when the king gave all the captains charge concerning Ab-ʿsā-lom.

6 ¶ So the people went out into the field against Ĭś-rā-ĕl: and the battle was in the wood of Ē-phră-ĭm;

7 Where the people of Ĭśʻrā-ĕl were slain before the servants of Dāʻvĭd, and there was there a great slaughter that day of twenty thousand men.

8 For the battle was there scattered over the face of all the country: and the wood devoured more people that day than the sword devoured.

9 ¶ And Åb'să-lom met the servants of Dā'vĭd. And Åb'să-lom rode upon a mule, and the mule went under the thick boughs of a great oak, and his head caught hold of the oak, and he was taken up between the heaven and the earth; and the mule that was under him went away.

10 And a certain man saw it, and told Jō-ab, and said, Behold, I saw Ab-sa-lom hanged in an oak.

11 And Jō-ab said unto the man that told him, And, behold, thou sawest him, and why didst thou not smite him there to the ground? and I would have given thee ten $sh\bar{e}$ -kels of silver, and a girdle.

12 And the man said unto Jō-ab, Though I should receive a thousand shē-kels of silver in mine hand, yet would I not put forth mine hand against the king's son: for in our hearing the king charged thee and Ab-i-shai and It-tā-i, saying, Beware that none touch the young man Ab-sa-lom.

13 Otherwise I should have wrought falsehood against mine own life: for there is no matter hid from the king, and thou thyself wouldest have set thyself against me.

14 Then said Jōʻāb, I may not tarry thus with thee. And he took three darts in his hand, and thrust them through the heart of Ăbʻsă-lom, while he was yet alive in the midst of the oak.

15 And ten young men that bare Jō-ab's armour compassed about and smote Ab-sa-lom, and slew him.

16 And Jō-ab blew the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing after Ĭś-rā-ĕl: for Jō-ab held back the people. 17 And they took Ab-sa-lom, and cast him into a great pit in the wood, and laid a very great heap of stones upon him: and all Ĭś-rā-ĕl fled every one to his tent.

18 ¶ Now Åb´să-lom in his lifetime had taken and reared up for himself a pillar, which is in the king's dale: for he said, I have no son to keep my name in remembrance: and he called the pillar after his own name: and it is called unto this day, Ăb´să-lom's place.

19 \P Then said Å-hī'mă-ăz the son of Zā'dŏk, Let me now run, and bear the king tidings, how that the LORD hath avenged him of his enemies.

20 And Jō-ʿab said unto him, Thou shalt not bear tidings this day, but thou shalt bear tidings another day: but this day thou shalt bear no tidings, because the king's son is dead. 21 Then said Jō-ʿab to Cū-ʿshī, Go tell the king what thou hast seen. And Cū-ʿshī bowed himself unto Jō-ʿab, and ran.

22 Then said Ă-hī-mă-ăz the son of Zā-dŏk yet again to Jō-ab, But howsoever, let me, I pray thee, also run after Cū-shī. And Jō-ab said, Wherefore wilt thou run, my son, seeing that thou hast no tidings ready?

23 But howsoever, said he, let me run. And he said unto him, Run. Then Ă-hī-mă-ăz ran by the way of the plain, and overran Cū-shī.

24 And Dā-vĭd sat between the two gates: and the watchman went up to the roof over the gate unto the wall, and lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold a man running alone.

25 And the watchman cried, and told the king. And the king said, If he be alone, there is tidings in his mouth. And he came apace, and drew near.

26 And the watchman saw another man running: and the watchman called unto the porter, and said, Behold another man running alone. And the king said, He also bringeth tidings.

27 And the watchman said, Me thinketh the running of the foremost is like the running of \check{A} -hī'mă-az the son of Zā'dŏk. And the king said, He is a good man, and cometh with good tidings.

28 And Å-hī-mă-ăz called, and said unto the king, All is well. And he fell down to the earth upon his face before the king, and said, Blessed be the LORD thy God, which hath delivered up the men that lifted up their hand against my lord the king.

29 And the king said, Is the young man Åb-să-lom safe? And Ă-hī-mă-ăz answered, When Jō-ăb sent the king's servant, and me thy servant, I saw a great tumult, but I knew not what it was.

30 And the king said unto him, Turn aside, and stand here. And he turned aside, and stood still.

31 And, behold, Cū-shī came; and Cū-shī said, Tidings, my lord the king: for the LORD hath avenged thee this day of all them that rose up against thee.

32 And the king said unto Cū-shī, Is the young man Ăb-să-lom safe? And Cū-shī answered, The enemies of my lord the king, and all that rise against thee to do thee hurt, be as that young man is.

33 ¶ And the king was much moved, and went up to the chamber over the gate, and wept: and as he went, thus he said, O my son Ăb´să-lom, my son, my son Ăb´să-lom! would God I had died for thee, O Ăb´să-lom, my son, my son!

CHAPTER 19

And it was told Jō-ab, Behold, the king weepeth and mourneth for Ab-sa-lom.

2 And the victory that day was turned into mourning unto all the people: for the people heard say that day how the king was grieved for his son.

3 And the people gat them by stealth that day into the city, as people being ashamed steal away when they flee in battle.

4 But the king covered his face, and the king cried with a loud voice, O my son Ăb-să-lom, O Ăb-să-lom, my son, my son!

5 And Jō-ab came into the house to the king, and said, Thou hast shamed this day the faces of all thy servants, which this day have saved thy life, and the lives of thy sons and of thy daughters, and the lives of thy wives, and the lives of thy concubines;

6 In that thou lovest thine enemies, and hatest thy friends. For thou hast declared this day, that thou regardest neither princes nor servants: for this day I perceive, that if Ăb-să-lom had lived, and all we had died this day, then it had pleased thee well.

7 Now therefore arise, go forth, and speak comfortably unto thy servants: for I swear by the LORD, if thou go not forth, there will not tarry one with thee this night: and that will be worse unto thee than all the evil that befell thee from thy youth until now.

8 Then the king arose, and sat in the gate. And they told unto all the people, saying, Behold, the king doth sit in the gate. And all the people came before the king: for Ĭś-rā-ĕl had fled every man to his tent.

9 ¶ And all the people were at strife throughout all the tribes of Ĭś-rā-ĕl, saying, The king saved us out of the hand of our enemies, and he delivered us out of the hand of the Phĭl-ĩs-tīnes; and now he is fled out of the land for Ăb-să-lom.

10 And Ăb-să-lom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battle. Now therefore why speak ye not a word of bringing the king back?

11 ¶ And king Dā-vǐd sent to Zā-dŏk and to Ă-bī-a-thär the priests, saying, Speak unto the elders of Jûd-ah, saying, Why are ye the last to bring the king back to his house? seeing the speech of all Ĭs-rā-ĕl is come to the king, even to his house.

12 Ye are my brethren, ye are my bones and my flesh: wherefore then are ye the last to bring back the king?

13 And say ye to Ă-mā'să, Art thou not of my bone, and of my flesh? God do so to me, and more also, if thou be not captain of the host before me continually in the room of Jō'ab.

14 And he bowed the heart of all the men of Jûd-ăh, even as the heart of one man; so that they sent this word unto the king, Return thou, and all thy servants.

15 So the king returned, and came to Jôr-dăn. And Jûd-ăh came to Gĭl-găl, to go to meet the king, to conduct the king over Jôr-dăn.

16 ¶ And Shǐm-ĕ-ī the son of Gē-ra, a Bĕn-ja-mīte, which was of Ba-hū-rim, hasted and came down with the men of Jûd-ah to meet king Dā-vid.

17 And there were a thousand men of Bĕn´-jă-mĭn with him, and Zī-bă the servant of the house of Saul, and his fifteen sons and his twenty servants with him; and they went over Jôr´-dăn before the king.

18 And there went over a ferry boat to carry over the king's household, and to do what he thought good. And Shǐm-ĕ-ī the son of Gē-ra fell down before the king, as he was come over Jôr-dăn;

19 And said unto the king, Let not my lord impute iniquity unto me, neither do thou remember that which thy servant did perversely the day that my lord the king went out of Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm, that the king should take it to his heart. 20 For thy servant doth know that I have sinned: therefore, behold, I am come the first this day of all the house of Jō-śĕph to go down to meet my lord the king.

21 But Ăb-ĩ-shai the son of Zĕr-ū-ī-ăh answered and said, Shall not Shǐm-ĕ-ī be put to death for this, because he cursed the LORD'S anointed?

22 And Dā-vid said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zĕr-ū-ī-ăh, that ye should this day be adversaries unto me? shall there any man be put to death this day in Ĭś-rā-ĕl? for do not I know that I am this day king over Ĭś-rā-ĕl?

23 Therefore the king said unto Shǐm-ĕ-ī, Thou shalt not die. And the king sware unto him.

24 ¶ And Mĕ-phib-ŏ-shĕth the son of Saul came down to meet the king, and had neither dressed his feet, nor trimmed his beard, nor washed his clothes, from the day the king departed until the day he came again in peace.

25 And it came to pass, when he was come to Jě-rû-să-lěm to meet the king, that the king said unto him, Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mě-phǐb-ŏ-shěth?

26 And he answered, My lord, O king, my servant deceived me: for thy servant said, I will saddle me an ass, that I may ride thereon, and go to the king; because thy servant is lame.

27 And he hath slandered thy servant unto my lord the king; but my lord the king is as an angel of God: do therefore what is good in thine eyes.

28 For all of my father's house were but dead men before my lord the king: yet didst thou set thy servant among them that did eat at thine own table. What right therefore have I yet to cry any more unto the king?

29 And the king said unto him, Why speakest thou any more of thy matters? I have said, Thou and Zī-bă divide the land.

30 And Mĕ-phĭb'ŏ-shĕth said unto the king, Yea, let him take all, forasmuch as my lord the king is come again in peace unto his own house.

31 \P And Bär-zĭl-lā-íī the Gĭl-ĕ-ăd-īte came down from Rō-ʻgĕ-lĭm, and went over Jôr-dăn with the king, to conduct him over Jôr-dăn.

32 Now Bär-zǐl-lā-íī was a very aged man, even fourscore years old: and he had provided the king of sustenance while he lay at Mā-hă-nā-ím; for he was a very great man. 33 And the king said unto Bär-zǐl-lā-íī, Come thou over with me, and I will feed thee with me in Jĕ-rû-śă-lĕm.

34 And Bär-zǐl-lā-ī said unto the king, How long have I to live, that I should go up with the king unto Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm?
35 I am this day fourscore years old: and can I discern between good and evil? can thy servant taste what I eat or what I drink? can I hear any more the voice of singing men and singing women? wherefore then should thy servant be yet a burden unto my lord the king?

36 Thy servant will go a little way over Jôr-dăn with the king: and why should the king recompense it me with such a reward?

37 Let thy servant, I pray thee, turn back again, that I may die in mine own city, and be buried by the grave of my father and of my mother. But behold thy servant Chĭm-hăm; let him go over with my lord the king; and do to him what shall seem good unto thee.

38 And the king answered, Chǐm-ham shall go over with me, and I will do to him that which shall seem good unto thee: and whatsoever thou shalt require of me, that will I do for thee.

39 And all the people went over Jôr-dăn. And when the king was come over, the king kissed Bär-zĭl-lā-i, and blessed him; and he returned unto his own place.

40 Then the king went on to Gĭl'găl, and Chĭm'hăm went on with him: and all the people of Jûd'āh conducted the king, and also half the people of Ĭs'rā-ĕl.

41 ¶ And, behold, all the men of Ĭś′rā-ĕl came to the king, and said unto the king, Why have our brethren the men of Jûd-ăh stolen thee away, and have brought the king, and his household, and all Dā-vĭd's men with him, over Jôr-dăn?

42 And all the men of Jûd'āh answered the men of Ĭś'rā-ĕl, Because the king is near of kin to us: wherefore then be ye angry for this matter? have we eaten at all of the king's cost? or hath he given us any gift?

43 And the men of Ĭśʻrā-ĕl answered the men of Jûd-ăh, and said, We have ten parts in the king, and we have also more right in Dā-vĭd than ye: why then did ye despise us, that our advice should not be first had in bringing back our king? And the words of the men of Jûd-ăh were fiercer than the words of the men of Ĭś-rā-ĕl.

CHAPTER 20

And there happened to be there a man of Bē'lĭ-ăl, whose name was Shē'bă, the son of Bĭch'rī, a Bĕn'jă-mīte: and he blew a trumpet, and said, We have no part in Dā'vĭd, neither have we inheritance in the son of Jĕs'sĕ: every man to his tents, O Ĭś'rā-ĕl.

2 So every man of Ĭś-rā-ĕl went up from after Dā-vǐd, and followed Shē-bă the son of Bĭch-rī: but the men of Jûd-ăh clave unto their king, from Jôr-dăn even to Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm.

3 ¶ And Dā'vĭd came to his house at Jĕ-rû'să-lĕm; and the king took the ten women his concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and put them in ward, and fed them, but went not in unto them. So they were shut up unto the day of their death, living in widowhood.

4 ¶ Then said the king to Å-mā-´să, Assemble me the men of Jûd-ˇah within three days, and be thou here present.

5 So Ă-mā-să went to assemble the men of Jûd-ăh: but he tarried longer than the set time which he had appointed him

6 And Dā'vĭd said to Ăb'ī-shai, Now shall Shē'bă the son of Bĭch'rī do us more harm than did Ăb'să-lom: take thou thy lord's servants, and pursue after him, lest he get him fenced cities, and escape us.

7 And there went out after him Jōʻāb's men, and the Chĕrʻĕ-thītes, and the Pĕlʻĕ-thītes, and all the mighty men: and they went out of Jĕ-rûʻsă-lĕm, to pursue after Shēʻbă the son of Bĭchʻrī.

8 When they were at the great stone which is in Gǐb-ĕ-on, Ă-mā-să went before them. And Jō-ab's garment that he had put on was girded unto him, and upon it a girdle with a sword fastened upon his loins in the sheath thereof; and as he went forth it fell out.

9 And Jō-ab said to Ă-mā-sa, Art thou in health, my brother? And Jō-ab took Ă-mā-sa by the beard with the right hand to kiss him.

10 But Ă-mā'să took no heed to the sword that was in Jō-ab's hand: so he smote him therewith in the fifth rib, and shed out his bowels to the ground, and struck him not again; and he died. So Jō-ab and Āb-ı-shai his brother pursued after Shē-ba the son of Bıch-rī.

11 And one of Jō-ab's men stood by him, and said, He that favoureth Jō-ab, and he that is for Dā-vid, let him go after Jō-ab.

12 And Å-mā-să wallowed in blood in the midst of the highway. And when the man saw that all the people stood still, he removed Ă-mā-să out of the highway into the field, and cast a cloth upon him, when he saw that every one that came by him stood still.

13 When he was removed out of the highway, all the people went on after Jō-ab, to pursue after Shē-ba the son of Bich-rī.

14 \P And he went through all the tribes of Ĭś-rā-ĕl unto Ā-bĕl, and to Bĕth-mā-a-chāh, and all the Bē-rītes: and they were gathered together, and went also after him.

15 And they came and besieged him in Ā-bĕl of Bĕth-mā-a-chah, and they cast up a bank against the city, and it stood in the trench: and all the people that were with Jō-ab battered the wall, to throw it down.

16 \P Then cried a wise woman out of the city, Hear, hear; say, I pray you, unto Jōʻāb, Come near hither, that I may speak with thee.

17 And when he was come near unto her, the woman said, Art thou Jōʻab? And he answered, I am he. Then she said unto him, Hear the words of thine handmaid. And he answered, I do hear.

18 Then she spake, saying, They were wont to speak in old time, saying, They shall surely ask counsel at \bar{A} -běl: and so they ended the matter.

19 I am one of them that are peaceable and faithful in Ĭś-rā-ĕl: thou seekest to destroy a city and a mother in Ĭś-rā-ĕl: why wilt thou swallow up the inheritance of the LORD?

20 And Jō-ab answered and said, Far be it, far be it from me, that I should swallow up or destroy.

21 The matter is not so: but a man of mount Ē-ʻphră-ĭm, Shē-ʻbă the son of Bĭch-ʻrī by name, hath lifted up his hand against the king, even against Dā-ʻvĭd: deliver him only, and I will depart from the city. And the woman said unto Jō-ʿab, Behold, his head shall be thrown to thee over the wall.

22 Then the woman went unto all the people in her wisdom. And they cut off the head of Shē-bă the son of Bǐch-rī, and cast it out to Jō-ãb. And he blew a trumpet, and they retired from the city, every man to his tent. And Jō-ãb returned to Jĕ-rû-să-lĕm unto the king.

23 ¶ Now Jō-ab was over all the host of Ĭs-rā-el: and Be-nai-ah the son of Je-hoi-a-da was over the Cher-e-thites and over the Pĕl-'ĕ-thītes:

24 And Ă-dôr-ăm was over the tribute: and Jě-hŏsh-ă-phặt the son of Ă-hī-lŭd was recorder:

25 And Shē-'vă was scribe: and Zā-'dŏk and Ă-bī-'ă-thär were the priests:

26 And Ī-ra also the Jā-ı̃r-ı̄te was a chief ruler about Dā-vid.

CHAPTER 21

THEN there was a famine in the days of Dā-vid three years, year after year; and Dā-vid inquired of the LORD. And the LORD answered, It is for Saul, and for his bloody house, because he slew the Gib-e-on-ites.

2 And the king called the Gĭb´e-on-ītes, and said unto them; (now the Gĭb´e-on-ītes were not of the children of Ĭs´rā-ĕl, but of the remnant of the Ăm´ō-rītes; and the children of Ĭs´rā-ĕl had sworn unto them: and Saul sought to slay them in his zeal to the children of Ĭs´rā-ĕl and Jûd´ah.)

3 Wherefore Dā'vĭd said unto the Gĭb'ĕ-oౖn-ītes, What shall I do for you? and wherewith shall I make the atonement, that ye may bless the inheritance of the LORD?

4 And the Gĭb´ĕ-on-ītes said unto him, We will have no silver nor gold of Saul, nor of his house; neither for us shalt thou kill any man in Ĭś´rā-ĕl. And he said, What ye shall say, that will I do for you.

5 And they answered the king, The man that consumed us, and that devised against us that we should be destroyed from remaining in any of the coasts of Ĭś-rā-ĕl,

6 Let seven men of his sons be delivered unto us, and we will hang them up unto the LORD in Gĭb´e-ăh of Saul, whom the LORD did choose. And the king said, I will give them.

7 But the king spared Mě-phǐb-o-shěth, the son of Jŏn-a-than the son of Saul, because of the LORD's oath that was between them, between Dā-vid and Jŏn-a-than the son of Saul.

8 But the king took the two sons of Rĭz-păh the daughter of Ai-ăh, whom she bare unto Saul, Är-mō-nī and Mĕ-phĭb-ŏ-shĕth; and the five sons of Mī-chăl the daughter of Saul, whom she brought up for Ā-drĭ-ĕl the son of Bär-zĭl-lā-ī the Mĕ-hō-lă-thīte:

9 And he delivered them into the hands of the Gĭb-ĕ-on-ītes, and they hanged them in the hill before the LORD: and they fell all seven together, and were put to death in the days of harvest, in the first days, in the beginning of barley harvest.

10 ¶ And Rĭz-́păh the daughter of Ai-́ah took sackcloth, and spread it for her upon the rock, from the beginning of harvest until water dropped upon them out of heaven, and suffered neither the birds of the air to rest on them by day, nor the beasts of the field by night.

11 And it was told Dā'vĭd what Rĭz'păh the daughter of Ai'ăh, the concubine of Saul, had done.

12 ¶ And Dā'vĭd went and took the bones of Saul and the bones of Jŏn'ā-thăn his son from the men of Jā'bĕsh-gĭl'ē-ăd, which had stolen them from the street of Bĕth'shăn, where the Phĭl'īs-tīnes had hanged them, when the Phĭl'īs-tīnes had slain Saul in Gĭl-bō'ā:

13 And he brought up from thence the bones of Saul and the bones of Jŏn-ʿā-thăn his son; and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and Jon-a-than his son buried they in the country of Bĕn-jă-mĭn in Zē-lăh, in the sepulchre of Kĭsh his father: and they performed all that the king commanded. And after that God was intreated for the land. 15 ¶ Moreover the Phĭl-ĭs-tīnes had yet war again with Ĭs-rā-ĕl; and Dā-vĭd went down, and his servants with him, and fought against the Phĭl-ĭs-tīnes: and Dā-vĭd waxed faint.

16 And Ĭsh-ʻbī-bē-ʻnŏb, which was of the sons of the giant, the weight of whose spear weighed three hundred shē-ʿkĕls of brass in weight, he being girded with a new sword, thought to have slain Dā-ʻvĭd.

17 But Åb-ı̃-shai the son of Zer-ū-ī-āh succoured him, and smote the Phil-ı̃s-tīne, and killed him. Then the men of Dā-vid sware unto him, saying, Thou shalt go no more out with us to battle, that thou quench not the light of ı̃s-rā-ēl. 18 And it came to pass after this, that there was again a battle with the Phil-ı̃s-tīnes at Gŏb: then Sı̆b-bĕ-chai the Hūsh-a-thīte slew Săph, which was of the sons of the giant. 19 And there was again a battle in Gŏb with the Phil-ı̃s-tīnes, where El-hā-nān the son of Jā-a-rë-ôr-ĕ-gı̆m, a Bĕth-lĕ-hĕ-mīte, slew the brother of Gō-lī-ath the Gı̆t-tīte, the staff of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.

20 And there was yet a battle in Găth, where was a man of great stature, that had on every hand six fingers, and on every foot six toes, four and twenty in number; and he also was born to the giant.

21 And when he defied Ĭś-rā-ĕl, Jŏn-ă-thăn the son of Shĭm-ĕ-ă the brother of Dā-vĭd slew him.

22 These four were born to the giant in Găth, and fell by the hand of $D\bar{a}'v\bar{v}d$, and by the hand of his servants.

CHAPTER 22

And Dā-vid spake unto the LORD the words of this song in the day that the LORD had delivered him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul:

2 And he said, The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer;

3 The God of my rock; in him will I trust: he is my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my saviour; thou savest me from violence.

4 I will call on the LORD, who is worthy to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.

5 When the waves of death compassed me, the floods of ungodly men made me afraid;

6 The sorrows of hell compassed me about; the snares of death prevented me;

7 In my distress I called upon the LORD, and cried to my God: and he did hear my voice out of his temple, and my cry did enter into his ears.

8 Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations of heaven moved and shook, because he was wroth.

9 There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

10 He bowed the heavens also, and came down; and darkness was under his feet.

11 And he rode upon a cher-upon and did fly: and he was seen upon the wings of the wind.

12 And he made darkness pavilions round about him, dark waters, and thick clouds of the skies.

13 Through the brightness before him were coals of fire kindled.

14 The LORD thundered from heaven, and the most High uttered his voice.

15 And he sent out arrows, and scattered them; lightning, and discomfited them.

16 And the channels of the sea appeared, the foundations of the world were discovered, at the rebuking of the LORD, at the blast of the breath of his nostrils.

17 He sent from above, he took me; he drew me out of many waters;

18 He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them that hated me: for they were too strong for me.

19 They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the LORD was my stay.

20 He brought me forth also into a large place: he delivered me, because he delighted in me.

21 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness: according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.

22 For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

23 For all his judgments were before me: and as for his statutes, I did not depart from them.

24 I was also upright before him, and have kept myself from mine iniquity.

25 Therefore the LORD hath recompensed me according to my righteousness; according to my cleanness in his eye sight.

26 With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful, and with the upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright.

27 With the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure; and with the froward thou wilt shew thyself unsavoury.

28 And the afflicted people thou wilt save: but thine eyes are upon the haughty, that thou mayest bring them down. 29 For thou art my lamp, O LORD: and the LORD will lighten my darkness.

30 For by thee I have run through a troop: by my God have I leaped over a wall.

31 As for God, his way is perfect; the word of the LORD is tried: he is a buckler to all them that trust in him.

32 For who is God, save the LORD? and who is a rock, save our God?

33 God is my strength and power: and he maketh my way perfect.

34 He maketh my feet like hinds' feet: and setteth me upon my high places.

35 He teacheth my hands to war; so that a bow of steel is broken by mine arms.

36 Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation: and thy gentleness hath made me great.

37 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me; so that my feet did not slip.

38 I have pursued mine enemies, and destroyed them; and turned not again until I had consumed them.

39 And I have consumed them, and wounded them, that they could not arise: yea, they are fallen under my feet.

40 For thou hast girded me with strength to battle: them that rose up against me hast thou subdued under me.

41 Thou hast also given me the necks of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

42 They looked, but there was none to save; even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.

43 Then did I beat them as small as the dust of the earth, I did stamp them as the mire of the street, and did spread them abroad.

44 Thou also hast delivered me from the strivings of my people, thou hast kept me to be head of the heathen: a people which I knew not shall serve me.

45 Strangers shall submit themselves unto me: as soon as they hear, they shall be obedient unto me.

46 Strangers shall fade away, and they shall be afraid out of their close places.

47 The LORD liveth; and blessed be my rock; and exalted be the God of the rock of my salvation.

48 It is God that avengeth me, and that bringeth down the people under me,

49 And that bringeth me forth from mine enemies: thou also hast lifted me up on high above them that rose up against me: thou hast delivered me from the violent man. 50 Therefore I will give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the heathen, and I will sing praises unto thy name.

51 He is the tower of salvation for his king: and sheweth mercy to his anointed, unto Dā-vĭd, and to his seed for evermore.

CHAPTER 23

N ow these be the last words of Dā-vǐd. Dā-vǐd the son of Jĕs-sĕ said, and the man who was raised up on high, the anointed of the God of Jā-cob, and the sweet psalmist of Ĭs-rā-ĕl, said,

2 The Spirit of the LORD spake by me, and his word was in my tongue.

3 The God of Ĭś-rā-ĕl said, the Rock of Ĭś-rā-ĕl spake to me, He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God.

4 And he shall be as the light of the morning, when the sun riseth, even a morning without clouds; as the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain.

5 Although my house be not so with God; yet he hath made with me an everlasting covenant, ordered in all things, and sure: for this is all my salvation, and all my desire, although he make it not to grow.

6 ¶ But the sons of Bē-lĭ-ăl shall be all of them as thorns thrust away, because they cannot be taken with hands:

7 But the man that shall touch them must be fenced with iron and the staff of a spear; and they shall be utterly burned with fire in the same place.

8 ¶ These be the names of the mighty men whom Dā'vĭd had: The Tặch'mō-nīte that sat in the seat, chief among the captains; the same was Ăd-ĩ-nō the Ĕz'-nīte: he lift up his spear against eight hundred, whom he slew at one time.

9 And after him was Ĕl-ē-ā-zär the son of Dō-dō the Ă-hō-hīte, one of the three mighty men with Dā-vǐd, when they defied the Phǐl-ĩs-tīnes that were there gathered together to battle, and the men of Ĭs-rā-ĕl were gone away: 10 He arose, and smote the Phǐl-ĩs-tīnes until his hand was weary, and his hand clave unto the sword: and the LORD wrought a great victory that day; and the people returned after him only to spoil.

11 And after him was Shăm'-măh the son of Ā'-ġee the Hâr'-ă-rīte. And the Phĭl'-ĭs-tīnes were gathered together into a troop, where was a piece of ground full of lentiles: and the people fled from the Phĭl'-ĭs-tīnes.

12 But he stood in the midst of the ground, and defended it, and slew the Phil-is-tines: and the LORD wrought a great victory.

13 And three of the thirty chief went down, and came to $D\bar{a}$ -'vĭd in the harvest time unto the cave of \bar{A} -dŭl-'lăm: and the troop of the Phĭl-ʿīs-tīnes pitched in the valley of Rěph-' \bar{a} - \bar{i} m.

14 And Dā-vĭd was then in an hold, and the garrison of the Phĭl-ĭs-tīnes was then in Bĕth-lĕ-hĕm.

15 And Dā-vǐd longed, and said, Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Běth-lĕ-hĕm, which is by the gate!

16 And the three mighty men brake through the host of the Phǐl-ʿīs-tīnes, and drew water out of the well of Běth-ʻlĕ-hĕm, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to Dā-ʻvĭd: nevertheless he would not drink thereof, but poured it out unto the LORD.

17 And he said, Be it far from me, O LORD, that I should do this: is not this the blood of the men that went in jeopardy of their lives? therefore he would not drink it. These things did these three mighty men.

18 And Åb-ı̃-shai, the brother of Jō-ãb, the son of Zĕr-ū-ı̃-ãh, was chief among three. And he lifted up his spear against three hundred, and slew them, and had the name among three.

19 Was he not most honourable of three? therefore he was their captain: howbeit he attained not unto the first three. 20 And Bĕ-nai-ah the son of Jĕ-hoi-a-da, the son of a valiant man, of Kab-zeel, who had done many acts, he slew two lionlike men of Mō-ab: he went down also and slew a lion in the midst of a pit in time of snow:

21 And he slew an \bar{E} -ġypʻtīan, a goodly man: and the \bar{E} -ġypʻtīan had a spear in his hand; but he went down to him with a staff, and plucked the spear out of the \bar{E} -ġypʻtīan's hand, and slew him with his own spear.

22 These things did Bě-nai-áh the son of Jě-hoi-á-dă, and had the name among three mighty men.

23 He was more honourable than the thirty, but he attained not to the $\it first$ three. And Dā-vid set him over his guard.

24 Ăs-ã-hěl the brother of Jō-ãb was one of the thirty; Ĕl-hā-năn the son of Dō-dō of Bĕth-lĕ-hĕm,

25 Shăm-măh the Hâr-ŏ-dīte, Ē-lī-kă the Hâr-ŏ-dīte,

26 Hē'lĕz the Păl'tīte, Ī'ră the son of Ĭk'kĕsh the Tĕ-kō'īte, 27 Ā-bī-ē'zĕr the Ăn-ĕ-thō'thīte, Mĕ-bŭn'nai the Hūsh'ă-thīte,

28 Zăl-mŏn the Ă-hō-hīte, Mā-hā-rai the Nĕ-tŏph-a-thīte, 29 Hē-lĕb the son of Bā-a-nāh, a Nĕ-tŏph-a-thīte, Ĭt-tā-ī the son of Rī-bā-ī out of Gĭb-ĕ-āh of the children of Bĕn-jā-mĭn, 30 Bĕ-nai-āh the Pī-rā-thŏn-īte, Hĭd-dā-ī of the brooks of Gā-ash,

31 Ā'bī-ăl'bŏn the Är'bă-thīte, Ăz-mā'vĕth the Bär-hū'mīte,

32 \bar{E} -lī-äh-bă the Shā-ăl-bō-nīte, of the sons of Jăsh-ĕn, Jŏn-ă-thăn,

33 Shăm'-măh the Hâr'-ă-rīte, Ă-hī'-ăm the son of Shâr'-är the Hâr'-ă-rīte,

34 Ē-lĭph-ĕ-lĕt the son of Ă-hăś-bai, the son of the Mā-ach-a-thīte, Ē-lī-am the son of Ă-hĭth-ŏ-phĕl the Gī-lō-nīte,

35 Hĕz-rā-ī the Cär-mĕl-īte, Pā-a-rai the Är-bīte,

36 Ī-'găl the son of Nā-'thăn of Zō-'băh, Bā-'nī the Găd-'īte, 37 Zē-'lĕk the Ăm-'mon-īte, Nā-'hă-rai the Beer-'ō-thīte, armourbearer to Jō-'ăb the son of Zĕr-ū-ī-'ăh,

38 Ī-ră an Ĭth-rīte, Gâr-ĕb an Ĭth-rīte,

39 Ū-rī-ah the Hĭt-tīte: thirty and seven in all.

CHAPTER 24

And again the anger of the LORD was kindled against Aĭś-rā-ĕl, and he moved Dā-vĭd against them to say, Go, number Ĭś-rā-ĕl and Jûd-ăh.

2 For the king said to Jō-ab the captain of the host, which was with him, Go now through all the tribes of Ĭś-rā-ĕl, from Dan even to Beer-shē-ba, and number ye the people, that I may know the number of the people.

3 And Jō-áb said unto the king, Now the LORD thy God add unto the people, how many soever they be, an hundred-fold, and that the eyes of my lord the king may see it: but why doth my lord the king delight in this thing?

4 Notwithstanding the king's word prevailed against Jō-ab, and against the captains of the host. And Jō-ab and the captains of the host went out from the presence of the king, to number the people of Is-rā-el.

5 ¶ And they passed over Jôr-dăn, and pitched in Ă-rō-er, on the right side of the city that lieth in the midst of the river of Găd, and toward Jā-zer:

6 Then they came to Gĭl-ĕ-ăd, and to the land of Täh-tǐm-hŏd-shī; and they came to Dăn-jā-án, and about to Zī-dŏn, 7 And came to the strong hold of Tȳre, and to all the cities of the Hī-vītes, and of the Cā-nă-ăn-ītes: and they went out to the south of Jûd-ăh, even to Beer-shē-bă.

8 So when they had gone through all the land, they came to

Jě-rû-să-lěm at the end of nine months and twenty days. 9 And Jō-ab gave up the sum of the number of the people unto the king: and there were in Ĭś-rā-ĕl eight hundred thousand valiant men that drew the sword; and the men of Iûd-ah were five hundred thousand men.

10 \P And Dā-vĭd's heart smote him after that he had numbered the people. And Dā-vĭd said unto the LORD, I have sinned greatly in that I have done: and now, I beseech thee, O LORD, take away the iniquity of thy servant; for I have done very foolishly.

11 For when Dā-vǐd was up in the morning, the word of the LORD came unto the prophet Gǎd, Dā-vǐd's seer, saying,

12 Go and say unto Dā-vĭd, Thus saith the LORD, I offer thee three things; choose thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

13 So Găd came to Dā'vĭd, and told him, and said unto him, Shall seven years of famine come unto thee in thy land? or wilt thou flee three months before thine enemies, while they pursue thee? or that there be three days' pestilence in thy land? now advise, and see what answer I shall return to him that sent me.

14 And Dā'vĭd said unto Găd, I am in a great strait: let us fall now into the hand of the LORD; for his mercies are great: and let me not fall into the hand of man.

15 \P So the LORD sent a pestilence upon Ĭś-rā-ĕl from the morning even to the time appointed: and there died of the people from Dăn even to Beer-shē-bă seventy thousand men.

16 And when the angel stretched out his hand upon Jě-rû-să-lěm to destroy it, the LORD repented him of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed the people, It is enough: stay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD was by the threshingplace of Ă-râu-năh the Jěb-ū-sīte.

17 And Dā-vid spake unto the LORD when he saw the angel that smote the people, and said, Lo, I have sinned, and I have done wickedly: but these sheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, be against me, and against my father's house.

18 \P And Găd came that day to Dā-vĭd, and said unto him, Go up, rear an altar unto the LORD in the threshingfloor of \bar{A} -rau-năh the Jĕb- \bar{u} -site.

19 And $D\bar{a}$ -vĭd, according to the saying of Găd, went up as the LORD commanded.

20 And Ă-rau-năh looked, and saw the king and his servants coming on toward him: and Ă-rau-năh went out, and bowed himself before the king on his face upon the ground. 21 And Ă-rau-năh said, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his servant? And Dā-vǐd said, To buy the threshingfloor of thee, to build an altar unto the LORD, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

22 And Ă-rau-năh said unto Dā-vĭd, Let my lord the king take and offer up what seemeth good unto him: behold, here be oxen for burnt sacrifice, and threshing instruments and other instruments of the oxen for wood.

23 All these things did Å-rau-năh, as a king, give unto the king. And Ă-rau-năh said unto the king, The LORD thy God accept thee.

24 And the king said unto Ă-rau-năh, Nay; but I will surely buy it of thee at a price: neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the LORD my God of that which doth cost me nothing. So Dā-vĭd bought the threshingfloor and the oxen for fifty shē-kĕls of silver.

25 And Dā'vĭd built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the LORD was intreated for the land, and the plague was stayed from Ĭś'rā-ĕl.
